'I WAS FORTUNATE'

Teener Gives His $100 To School

By CHARLINE SUTTON

Marindale School is $100 richer because of the generosity of a Redwood High School graduating senior who donated his scholarship award to handicapped children.

"I felt that it would serve a far more beneficial use at Marindale than if I were to use it for my college education," Robert D. Roth, 17-year-old winner of the "outstanding student award" from the California Savings and Loan League, said today.

Roth presented the $100 check to the school May 25 at a volunteer luncheon at which his mother, a special education program volunteer, was also honored. The Marin County Board of Education last night acknowledged the gift along with $350 in other donations.

"When I was mentioned for the award, I decided that if I won it, I would give it to the children at Marindale," said Roth, who has spent weekends for the past three years working at the school. "If these children had not been born with physical and mental handicaps, they might have been competing for the same award. I was just more fortunate."

Roth will spend this summer at the school, before entering the University of California at Berkeley where he will major in political science. He plans to go into law or teaching, or possibly journalism, an interest engendered during this year's co-editorship of Redwood High School's newspaper, The Bark.

He urged other Marin County students to take advantage of the opportunity to work at Marindale.

"You learn a lot about other individuals — not just as a group — but as real people. Real individuals. It's better than just sitting back and talking about their problems," he added. Mentioning the county-wide program for youth work this summer," he said. "Anyone who is interested can get in touch with me."

Roth's belief in people-to-people active involvement is indicated by his selection last summer as Redwood's foreign exchange ambassador to Holland, sponsored by the Experiment in International Living.

Although he says that the "newspaper takes up most of my time now," Roth earned a varsity letter in swimming last year, was junior class vice-president and an Eagle Scout with Troop 259 of Greenbrae. He will be student speaker at Redwood's commencement exercises.

His parents are Dr. and Mrs. Merall Roth of 14 Via Chepano, Greenbrae. His sister, Ellen, 21, is a senior at San Jose State College. He has two younger brothers, Billy, 14, a student at Kentfield School, and Tommy, 11, a student at Greenbrae School.

Hamilton To Be Used As Mock Air Battle Base

A mock air battle, in which Air Force fighter plans try to intercept "attacking" B52 bombers, will be staged over the western half of the United States Thursday night and early Friday.

Jets from the 84th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base will participate in the exercise. The public information office on the base said today residents can expect increased traffic at Hamilton between about 9 p.m. Thursday and dawn Friday.

A spokesman said he doubted sonic booms would occur over Marin, however, since most of the heavy air traffic will center over Washington.

Bombers of the Strategic Air Command will be operating at high and low altitudes over most western states, but no suspension of normal civil air traffic is expected.

In addition to planes from the 84th squadron, jets from the 194th Fighter Interceptor Squadron of the California Air National Guard will be using Hamilton. The squadron is based in Fresno, a Hamilton spokesman said, but the runway there is being repaired.

LBJ BIDS RUSSIA TO AID IN PEACE

Invitation Issued At Scene Of Last Year's Kosygin Conference; Hanoi Turns Deaf Ear

GLASSBORO, N. J. (UPI)— President Johnson —in a return to the site of his 1967 meeting with Russian Premier Alexei Kosygin —made a new bid to the Soviet Union today "to travel part way together" toward bringing peace in Vietnam and the world.

In an address to the graduating class of Glassboro State College, the president acknowledged that the talks in Paris thus far have made little progress because the North Vietnamese have responded to U. S. proposals only with propaganda.

PEACE SEARCH

But he said of the search for peace: "The road there is far less rocky when the world's two greatest powers —the United States and the Soviet Union — are willing to travel part way together."

He declared U. S. readiness to undertake serious negotiations immediately with the Russians on a broad disarmament treaty.

The speech was made at the "college green" in Glassboro, about 200 yards from Hollybush, the residence of the college president, where Johnson and Kosygin conferred last June 23 and 25.

THREE POINTS

The chief executive made three dominant points in his address to 967 graduates of Glassboro State and several thousand other persons:

He is convinced that with "stable, enlightened leadership" in this country and in the Soviet Union, the gulf separating the two countries for 25 years can be bridged and the Cold War ended.

Achievement of positive results in Paris is proving to be a "tough, slow business" with North Vietnam having offered only propaganda in the talks thus far. He rejected the North Vietnamese demand that the United States halt all bombing, saying an honorable peace required "some gestures on the other side toward peace."

HANOI'S REPLY

(In Paris, the Hanoi delegation gave a sharp and firm "no" to the president's call for a reciprocal gesture from the Communists on de-escalating the war.

The delegation said "the United States along holds the key to breaking the deadlock.")

He invited the Soviet Union to join the United States in seeking development of a workable peace in the Middle East, a goal toward which he said progress has not yet reached a satisfactory point.

Johnson also used the platform as a means to advise "responsibility and restraint" on the part of American political candidates in discussing tense international conditions in this election year.

QUICK TOUR

"The cause of peace demands responsibility and restraint from all of us —young and old, political leaders, candidates and plain citizens, office holders and officeseekers," he said.

The president was in Glassboro, a town of 3,500 population, exactly one hour. His schedule was so tight that his visit was limited to his speaking appearance and some hand shaking in crowds that lined his approach to a helicopter which whisked him on the first leg of his trip back to Washington.

Hanoi Defense Chief Sees U.S. Losing War

PARIS (UPI) — Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, North Vietnamese defense minister, said in an interview today that the United States is losing the war and its only hope for peace is a complete military withdrawal.

The interview with Madeleine Riffaud of the French Communist newspaper L'Humanite was the first Giap has granted "in a year, the newspaper said.

The newspaper said the interview took place in Hanoi.

No where in the interview did Giap acknowledge that North Vietnamese troops were fighting in South Vietnam.

He quoted President Ho Chi Minh in a letter to Viet Cong as saying, "While they talk of peace negotiations, the United States is intensifying the war."

Giap frequently quoted Ho on political aims, leaving little doubt the aging president is still in firm charge of the political direction of the war.

Meanwhile today American diplomats waited to see if Tho has a new line as tough as his bark.

They may find out tomorrow when the next U.S.-North Vietnamese preliminary peace talk session is scheduled.

Tho said on arrival there can be real peace talks — the aim of the current pathfinding sessions — if the United States unconditionally halts bombing North Vietnam and other "acts of war."

U.S. diplomats led by Ambassador-at-large W. Averell Harriman reserved comment. They wanted to see if the man from Hanoi might pull something new from the sleeve of his high-necked military tunic tomorrow.

Tho today was consulting Xuan Thuy and other Hanoi delegates.

Harriman continued his round of consultations with American experts and aides. Thus far they have had little luck in getting Hanoi to agree to show some restraint in its war effort in return for any U.S. promise to halt the bombardment of North Vietnam.

Cong Gunners Shell Saigon For Second Straight Night

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong gunners shelled Saigon for the second night in a row tonight, hurling 20 mortar rounds at the capital's southern sector in two attacks.

A U.S. spokesman said 10 82mm mortar rounds landed near the Cho-Quan power station, but the station was not damaged. A few minutes later about 10 more rounds hit in the area. There was no immediate word on casualties.

The mortar attack followed by less than 24 hours a barrage of 40 rockets in the heaviest enemy shelling so far of the embattled capital district. The Viet Cong, meanwhile, sent fresh troops into Saigon and U.S. sources conceded that the enemy "certainly could keep the fighting going for quite a while."

New fighting broke out only a mile and a half north of President Nguyen Van Thieu's Independence Palace, in the heart of Saigon, while government forces were still battling other enemy troops for the fifth day in the western part of the capital and in the northeastern suburb of Gia Dinh, two and one-half

Key Races Bring Out Heavy Vote In Marin

RFK, McCARTHY FATE

Millions At Primary Polls; Heavy Vote Being Forecast

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Millions of Californians surged to the polls today for a crucial Democratic presidential primary test between Sens. Robert F. Kennedy and Eugene J. McCarthy and a Republican rate that will decide U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel's future.

In populous Los Angeles County and San Francisco, officials reported large numbers of voters were casting their ballots—bearing out predictions of a 67 per cent vote in the state.

They laughingly declined to show newsmen their ballots, and wouldn't say how they voted in the GOP U.S. Senate primary between Kuchel and Max Rafferty, the state superintendent of public instruction.

In another section of Los Angeles, former Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown voted for McCarthy. But then he said he was going to work immediately for his real choice, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

In Los Angeles County, home of 2.9 million of the state's 7.9 million voters, election officials reported a 9.9 per cent turnout at mid-morning, compared to 7.7 per cent in 1964's presidential primary that featured a close contest between New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater.

In San Francisco, the registrar of voters predicted a 77 per cent vote.

Trends Expected By 10:30

High voter interest and good weather brought a brisk turnout of Marinites this morning as balloting opened in California's primary election.

About half of Marin voters generally get to the polls after the workday. Polls close at 8 p.m. (See absentee voting picture, page 17.)

At stake are races for president, U.S. Senate, House of Representatives, California Assembly, Marin County Board of Supervisors, Marin Municipal Water District, nine sanitary and community services districts and county central committees and unification of the Tomales Joint Union High School District.

COMPUTER TO COUNT

Partial results may be known by 10:30 p.m., elections officials said. All Marin ballots are counted at the Civic Center by a computer, so no counting begins until they reach the data processing center.

Election coverage will begin at 8 p.m. on radio station KTIM-FM, 100.9 megacycles.

EARLY TURNOUT

At Tiburon City Hall, 106 of 387 registered voters had balloted by late this morning. Other Tiburon counts were: Trestle Glen Fire Station, 143 of 418, and Tiburon Peninsula Club, 89 of 320.

In Belvedere, only 81 of 297 registered to vote at Belvedere Community Center had voted. At St. Stephens Church, one precinct reported 88 of 320 had voted, and a second precinct in the church reported 151 of 450.

At San Anselmo City Hal, 96 of 396 had voted. Kentfield Fire Station reported 95 of 475.

At the Village Baptist Church in Marin City, where 60 voters were waiting to vote when the poll opened at 7 a.m., 115 of 513.

Other Southern Marin vote counts were: Jesse E. Dabner residence, Sausalito, 107 of 518; Sausalito City Hall, 144 of 400; Stinson Beach Community Building, 59 of 300; Peace Lutheran Church, Mill Valley, 66 of 300; Tamalpais Valley School,

Sumbardo Resigns Fairfax City Post

David J. Sumbardo, Fairfax's first city administrator, announced yesterday that he will resign that post effective June 26.

The post of city administrator has stirred controversy among councilmen and residents since Sumbardo was hired by a 3-2 vote in February, 1965.

Sumbardo had no comment to make yesterday on his resignation, but said he would make a statement at a council meeting Monday.

He said he had accepted a job as of July 1 as a principal associate with the firm of J. L. Jacobs and Co. of Chicago, Ill., consultants in public administration.

Sumbardo, formerly assistant city manager of South San Francisco took over the newly-created post in Fairfax March 15, 1965, faced elimination of the job in July, 1967, and had a closed session with councilmen about his status last month.

Vice Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet, who voted against hiring Sumbardo and resigned from the council when Sumbardo accepted the post, called for last month's closed session.

Van Vliet, who was re-elected to the council in April, said people had been telling him that Sumbardo was saying he would be through in July.

Sumbardo said that councilmen hadn't told tim what his standing was and admitted that he felt a certain amount of insecurity.

The remarks referred to the city ordinance which reads that a new city council could not dismiss any administrator until 90 days after it is seated, he explained. In this case, it would be July.

After last month's closed session, Mayor Robert R. Souza described it as a "good healthy discussion" at which complaints about Sumbardo were reviewed.

Machinists' Strike Scene Not Changed

A strike of Machinists Union Local 238, San Rafael, which has idled about 800 workers in five metal fabricating plants in Marin County, was in its second day today, with no developments reported by union or management.

Spokesmen for both parties said they were awaiting the arrival of Cleo Harris, of the Federal Mediation Service. Harris, who has been assigned to the strike, is out of town on another case.

The one firm which is doing its own negotiating in the strike, H. Koch and Sons, Corte Madera, met yesterday with Thomas Bevan, business representative for Local 238, but would not comment on results of the meeting.

The California Metal Trades Association is representing the other four struck firms and is awaiting the return of Harris. The four, in addition to Koch, are A. G. Schoonmaker, E. D. Bullard and Vincent Whitney Co., all in Sausalito, and Bergman Manufacturing Co., San Rafael.

The union has agreed to pay raise provisions of a three-year contract, but is in dispute with the companies over conditions of employment and an optical-prescription drug benefit it wants in the contract.

Crippling French Transit Strike Eases; Rails In Wage Agreement

PARIS (UPI)—The government and spokesmen for 330,000 French railroad employees reached agreement on a new wage pact today. However, the nation's most devastating general strike in history continued with nine million workers still off the job.

Railway workers must confirm the contract which calls for an average 10.20 per cent pay increase. If they do so trains could start rolling again tomorrow in a major break in the nationwide tieup that has held France strikebound for two and one-half weeks. Paris subway and bus workers also voted today on whether to return to work.

Only about one million of the 10 million strikers were expected to return to work today as President Charles de Gaulle's government continued its efforts to get France's crippled economy rolling again.

The 2,000 workers at the French atomic center at Marcoule in southern France went back to their jobs this morning.

But it was announced that the Paris Bourse (stock exchange), which had been closed since the beginning of the strikes, would remain closed today.

Paris taxi drivers, who have been on strike for two weeks, voted to stay off the job. They scheduled a new mass meeting Friday Morning.

With gasoline available again, thousands of car owners drove to work and Paris streets were blocked by traffic jams. The southern and western Autoroutes (super highways) into the capital were clogged and traffic jams in the city itself were among the worst ever seen.

It took up to one and one-half hours to drive from the edge of the Bois de Boulogne Park west of Paris into the downtown area. The trip normally takes 30 minutes.

Automobiles were parked on sidewalks by drivers unable to find room in the streets where they often were double and triple parked.

Also there was no violence reported. University students who sparked the crisis remained quiet. The threat of bloodshed appeared to have evaporated.

Dead Woman's Family Halts Heart Attempt

DALLAS (UPI)—A 22-year-old woman considered a potential heart transplant donor died today at Parkland Hospital with a surgeons team standing by and a potential recipient near death. But the woman's family refused to permit the operation.

The transplant would have been the fifth in Texas and the first in Dallas. Doctors said they still hoped to find an acceptable donor.

Hulk May Be German Sub Sunk In 1945

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A hulk found off Cape Henry by divers hunting for the missing submarine Scorpion may be the German submarine U-548, destroyed by U.S. warships April 30, 1945, seven days before V-E Day.

The submarine Pargo detected the hulk last Friday 70 miles east-northeast of Cape Henry. Divers descended 180 feet to the ocean floor from the submarine rescue ship Sunbird. They reported the hulk was about 250 feet long.

One of the divers, Chief Machinists Mate Ronald C. Hall, told Capt. John Caruso, a physician aboard the Sunbird, that the barnacle-encrusted sub appeared to be in an upright position and partly embedded in the ocean floor.

Although Navy officers at Norfolk declined to speculate on whether the hulk is the U-548, Hall's description of it fits the IX-C submarine type to which the U-548 belonged.

That type was 240 feet long, 22 feet abeam, and armed with deck guns. It carried a crew of five officers and 46 men.

The frigate Natchez reported the desruction of the submarine took place at 36 degrees north, 74 degrees west. The Sunbird found the hulk at 37 degrees north, 74 degrees west, a difference in lattitude of some 50 miles.

It is possible that the Natchez did not get an accurate fix of position. Or the submarine may have steamed or drifted.

Abby Runing Out Of Punch

PUNTA GORDA, Fla. (UPI) —Hurricane Abby, which left one person dead and five missing in its sudden slash through the Gulf of Mexico, moved ashore like a lamb today.

"There's no wind at all," said a deputy in the Charlotte County sheriff's office here. "The leaves are barely moving, and there's very little rain."

The brunt of Abby's winds—which reached hurricane force of 75 miles per hour only in brief gusts—were being felt only to the northeast of the storm's center.

Squalls with winds clocked at 40 to 50 miles per hour swept the Cape Kennedy area, and a tornado was spotted in the air near the space center there. Winds up to 45 miles per hour were expected as far south as Miami.

But it appeared that a night spent milling around off the coast left Abby too weak and fabby to deal harshly with the hurricane-wise residents of the Florida peninsula.

The storm was expected to spill out into the Atlantic near Cape Kennedy later today.

Argentina's First Heart Patient Dies

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Argentina's first heart transplant patient, Antonio Enrique Serrano, died early today, four days after the operation touched off debate over whether the country was ready for such surgery.

The last previous report on the 54-year-old salesman had said he was progressing satisfactorily although he had not regained consciousness after receiving the heart of a 47-year-old man who died of a brain hemorrhage.

Serrano's death left six survivors from the world's 20 heart transplants.

Before the operation, doctors had told Serrano's family he had a life expectancy of only four days because of incurable heart disease.

The heart transplant survivors now include two in Houston, Tex., and men in Paris, London, South Africa and Brazil.

MOUNTAIN TRAGEDY

Father Leaves Children A Heritage Of Courage

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)— Sharon and David Reddick, 12 and 11, are without a father today. They have instead a heritage of courage, self-sacrifice and a faith big enough to sustain them the rest of their lives.

It was given devotedly by their dad, Dr. James M. (Mac) Reddick high on Mount Rainier against a backdrop of blinding snow and howling 50-60 mile per hour winds.

The trio was at the 9,000-foot level of the mountain Friday when caught by the violent, unheralded storm.

"Dad said we'd have to dig in," David said. "So I got out my mess kit and started scooping out snow as fast as I could."

Reddick, 51, a Seattle dentist, put Sharon and Davis into one sleeping bag at the rear of their snow cave but there was no room for him to get into his.

Instead, he lay near the entrance to the snow cave, absorbing the brutal wind and cold.

He led the children in songs, joined them in Bible verses and helped them pray.

From time to time, Reddick put his hand into the children's sleeping bag to squeeze and reassure them. Sometime during the lonely weekend, the big hand no longer squeezed and comforted.

"When David knew his Dad was dead," Mrs. Reddick said, "he put Mac's hand back and closed his eyes. But he didn't want to admit the fact to himself.

The children were found wet, cold and tired but unharmed Sunday when the weather broke for a few hours and searchers spotted their packs set outside the snow cave.

Larkspur Budget May Mean Tax Rate Trim

The Larkspur City Council last night began to review a proposed $838,629 budget for 1968-69 which may lower the current tax rate of $1.90 per $100 assessed valuation.

Councilmen concentrated on the revenue phase of the budget. They will move on to departmental budgets and proposed salary increases tonight at another special budget meeting.

They were told the city's financial status may be better than is reflected in the budget because of preliminary estimate by the county assessor's office predicted a 4.9 per cent increase in Larkspur's assessed valuation, whereas the proposed budget would drop 1.7 per cent from this year's $853,204.

This could result either in additional revenue for the city or a tax cut since the proposed budget is based on a 2.5 per cent increase in the city's assessed valuation.

Robert C. Bundy, city treasurer, administrator's assistant and director of recreation for Larkspur, told councilmen a substantial increase in sales tax revenue is also likely in the coming fiscal year.

The budget projection calls for a $14,800 increase in sales tax revenue from $85,000 this year to $99,800 in 1968-69. Bundy said $11,000 of the projected increase is based on anticipated increased revenue from reopening of the Value World store under new ownership scheduled to open in late summer.

Other revenue sources are expected to remain at about the same level as in the present fiscal year, Bundy said.

City Manager Kent B. Bathurst said Larkspur faces an acute "dry" financial period in May to December of 1969.

The city will receive no tax payments in that period, he said, and will have to make payments for road projects prior to being reimbursed for them under the county urban thoroughfare program.

If there are additional unexpected drains on city funds, Bathhurst said, the city might "have to borrow funds for 15 or 30 days until we receive tax payments or urban thoroughfare funds."

But if all goes as planned, he said, this will not happen.

Street Work Bids Opened

Three bids were opened in the Tiburon city office for improvements to be made on Esperanza Street.

V. Maggiora and Son, Inc., of Corte Madera, was the low bidder at $4,182. Ghilotti Bros., Inc. of San Rafael, was second at $4,315. Rice, Martini and Smith of Novato bid $4,894.

Ray W. Foreaker, city engineer, who opend the bids, will review them for award at the June 10 meeting of the city council. He said his estimate for the job had been $6,373.

The work includes widening the street between Centro West and Mar West streets, installing curb, gutter and sidewalk and one catch basin on the Tiburon School side of Esperanza Street.

Juvenile Court Will Handle Drug Charges

Case of Douglas Jennings Dressler, 20, of Kentfield, was certified to juvenile court yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for handling as a minor.

Dressler is accused of selling marijuana to an undercover narcotics agent May 2 at 818 College Avenue, Kentfield.

San Anselmo Budget Holds Old Tax Rate

The San Anselmo City Council will begin a series of hearings at 7:45 p.m., Thursday in the city hall on a proposed 1968-69 budget of $1,008,237, about 15 per cent lower than the current budget of $1,214,652.

Even if the council adopts the recommended budget, the city's tax rate of $2.06 per $100 assessed valuation will remain the same, according to City Administrator-Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel.

GAS TAX FUNDS

This is because last year San Anselmo used accrued gas tax funds for major street construction. Next year no funds will be available for such a project, Kaeppel said, and the reduced budget mainly reflects the fact that no such large public works projects are planned.

Kaeppel said he had been instructed by the city council to draw up a budget which contains no salary increases, but that all departments have asked for raises.

"I would be happy to recommend such increases if someone would tell me where the money is coming from," Kaeppel said.

The two biggest items in the city budget are the fire and police departments. Because of several new employees in lower pay grades, the police department recommended budget is lower than this year, with $236,155 being proposed as compared to $239,615 this year.

The fire department allocation proposed by Kaeppel is higher, however, since several major purchases including half the price of a new fire engine and several water mains are recommended.

The current fire department budget is $266,834 and the proposed 1968-69 figure is $304,840.

SALARIES REDUCED

Residents of San Anselmo in April voted to reduce councilmen's salaries from $150 a month to $25 a meeting with a maximum of $75 a month. This will save taxpayers about $4,600 next year, reducing the city council appropriation from $9,850 to $5,243.

The street construction figure will drop from $304,240 to $38,000 under Kaeppel's recommendation.

Unlike residents of nearby Larkspur, San Anselmans pay a separate tax rate for sewage of 11 cents to the Ross Valley Sanitary District. The levy brings their total for city services to $2.17 as compared to $1.90 in Larkspur.

Ex-Mayor Aide Pleads Guilty To Bribery Charges

NEW YORK (AP) — James L. Marcus, former city water commissioner and once one of Mayor John V. Lindsay's closest advisers, has pleaded guilty to a charge of bribery conspiracy.

In another surprise earlier in the day, it was disclosed that the cases of Marcus and labor lawyer Herbert Itkin had been severed from the trial of the five other defendants in a trial just starting.

Marcus and Itkin are expected to be prosecution witnesses.

Easter Seal Sale Short Of Goal

Despite a month's extension, the 1968 Marin County Easter Seals campaign has fallen $6,000 short of its goal of $27,000 — but Easter Seal Society officials are not discouraged.

Heartened by a membership increase — "the highest ever" according to Mrs. Phyllis Widdershoven, executive director — the society does not anticipate any cutbacks in service to its 300 crippled children and adults.

Final campaign total, which makes up one-half of the society's budget, was $20,740.14.

Nine Charged, Seven Free Of 16 Held In Dope Raid

Nine of 16 young people nabbed in two Friday night raids were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on a variety of narcotics complaints.

The remaining seven were released without charges.

Arraigned on felony complaints were Martin C. Christians, 20, of Greenbrae, accused of furnishing two marijuana cigarettes to an undercover agent; Robert John Miller, 22, San Rafael, two counts of selling LSD and a third count of selling marijuana, and another joint complaint with Nora Maria Wicor, 19, San Rafael, charging Miller and Miss Wicor with possession of marijuana.

Gilbert B. Foerster, 22, of Miracle Hot Springs, Kern County, James W. Crowther, 25, Kentfield, and Robert L. Leoni, 22, and Donald F. Simon, 24, both of Sausalito, all were jointly accused of marijuana possession.

Arraigned on a joint misdemeanor complaint were Pauline R. Stamberger, 27, San Rafael, accused of possession of the drug, obedrin, and John Michael Brown, 22, of Ross possession of LSD.

Christians pleaded innocent. His case was referred to juvenile court for possible handling there as a minor. Report on the matter is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. June 17. Miller pleaded innocent to the three individual counts, with preliminary hearing scheduled for 9:30 a.m. June 27. He also pleaded innocent on the joint count. Preliminary hearing for that will be at 9:30 a.m. July 11.

Miss Wicor pleaded innocent and her case was referred to juvenile court. Report on whether it will be accepted was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. June 17.

Simon, Leoni, Foerster and Crowther all pleaded innocent. Preliminary hearing for them was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. July 2. Miss Stamberger and Brown pleaded innocent and jury trial in municipal court will be scheduled at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Released without charges were Robert S. Jones, 21, and Timothy L. Groeppner, 20, both of San Rafael, Louise K. Foerster, 23, Miracle Hot Springs, Paul S. Gladman, 21, Oakland, Robert D. Patterson, 23, and Kenneth William Sherfey, 24, both of Stinson Beach, and Craig J. Lieber, 22, San Francisco.

Four were arrested at 109 Clorinda Avenue, San Rafael, and the remaining 12 at Slide Ranch, near Stinson Beach, a hippie beach house compound. The raids were by state and local narcotics officrs.

Remaining in county jail in lieu of $1,250 bail is Miller. The others are free on bail or on their own recognizance.

Duplex Plan Revisions Win City Nod

The Tiburon Planning Commission last night granted William Solari permission to amend a use permit for construction of a duplex at 220 Mar West Street.

Proposed amendments allow the building to extend farther into the water and to have the roof line seven feet higher, according to Phil V. Scott, secretary.

Permission was granted to Raymond Weeks to rezone one of his three parcels behind 949 Tiburon Boulevard from a residential zone requiring one-acre size lot, Scott said.

An RO-2 zone, which is residential requiring one-half acre minimum lot size, will be recommended to the council for the Reedlands Woods subdivision, Scott said. Reedlands Woods recently was annexed by the city.

Two Burglaries, Wire Theft Told

Two burglaries and the theft of $500 worth of wire were reported today by sheriff's officers.

Armin J. Truttman of Jewel Ranch near Olema told deputies about 500 yards of insulated copper wiring was cut and stolen from a creek water pump.

Alfred Eastman Sparks of 2823 Las Gallinas Avenue, Terra Linda, told deputies Sunday that someone cut a door screen and entered his home. Taken were a $30 radio, several trading stamp books, and six tie clasps, he said.

Earl Edward Smith, 120, Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, said burglars entered his home Sunday by forcing a window screen. Lot included an $80 radio, $20 in change, and four pairs of men's cuff links.

Car Lot Burglars Purloin A Dummy

A buffer polisher, a stuffed dummy and a fishing pole were taken in a burglary at a warehouse at James Boys Used Cars, 625 Grand Avenue, San Rafael.

Police said entry was made through an open door on the north side of the warehouse. The door faces on the canal and is difficult to reach except at high tide with a boat, police said.

The stuffed dummy, used to advertise the lot, resembled an elderly man, had a beard and was dressed in farmer's clothing, police said. The burglary occurred Saturday night and was reported yesterday.

Mrs. Donald T. O'Connor of 311 Ricardo Road, Mill Valley, is looking for a man who wears an eye patch and has a hound dog that wears jingle bells. The dog bit her son, Thomas O'Connor, 14, on Saturday.

Mrs. O'Connor said her son has had a tetanus shot, but the doctor advised her to try to locate the dog. Her son and the man and his dog, both hitchhiking passengers, were in the O'Connor station wagon coming from Muir Beach when the dog both Sumbardo and Nelson.

The issue cooled when City Engineer Richard J. Nelson, who would have been eligible for the job, unexpectedly resigned in September for "better opportunities elsewhere."

During Sumbardo's term, the city has adopted a master plan, which was resisted in some quarters. Critics of the plan also criticized Sumbardo's attitude toward them.

The council also has put forth a $550,000 bond proposal for a new fire station and police-administration building, another controversial issue to be decided at the polls today.

Apponents of the city administration type of government, generally contended that a city the size of Fairfax didn't need a city administrator with "big ideas" that the taxpayers couldn't affort to pay for.

3,000 At Holy Ghost Festival

Approximately 3,000 persons attended Sunday's Holy Ghost Festival held by Sausalito's Portuguese colony, according to Manuel Silva, president of the IDESST.

At the special mass at Star of the Sea Church, a statue of Saint Isabel, patron saint of the festival, was surrounded by flowers in a special place below the altar. The sermon was given in Portuguese by Rev. Alfonso Ritas.

Man Is Held Over On Assault Charge

Judge Hadden W. Roth Marin Municipal Court yesterday held Foster Nolan Hines, 26, over to Marin Superior Court for trial on a felony charge of rape.

He found insufficient evidence during the preliminary hearing, however, to also hold him over on a charge of burglary. Hines, of Marin City, was accused of forcing his way into the apartment of a sleeping Sausalito woman April 11 and assaulting her. Arraignment in superior court is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Monday.

Marijuana Trial Set In September

Jury trial for Garth J. B. Upton, 23, accused of marijuana possession, was scheduled in Marin Superior Court yesterday for the week of Sept.

Upton, of South San Francisco, pleaded innocent to a felony charge that he had a $20,000 cache of marijuana in the trunk of his car in San Rafael Nov. 18, 1966. His case had been inactive until a January decision by the California District Court of Appeals overturned an illegal search ruling.

Sycamore Avenue Plans On Agenda

Discussion of the proposed Sycamore Avenue extension will be continued when the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the city manager's office. At its last meeting the committee asked for details of plans for the middle school at Project 17 in order to coordinate plans.

The committee will also hear a report on a street lighting seminar held by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. with city officials last week.

Hub Commission Absences Delay Agenda Items

The San Anselmo Planning Commission postponed last night reports on revisions to the use permit requirements, zoning ordinances and the sign ordinance because three of the commissioners were absent.

The commission told Ben Goldjur that he does not need a use permit to go into antique furniture business in a commercial zone so long as he does not manufacture furniture.

The commission also granted a use permit to Bess and Alexander Gilroy for a nursery school at 176 Tunstead Avenue and a variance to Robert W. Essig for a car parking deck at 415 Scenic Avenue.

An application by Oscar Pederson for a two-lot subdivision at 115 Santa Cruz Avenue was denied because it did not meet slope policy requirements.

Car Rolls Over, Injures Woman

Patricia Jo Hunt, 29, of Meadow Way, was reported in good condition today at Novato General Hospital with fractured ribs, multiple scrapes of her face and arms, and a cut above her right eye.

Mrs. Hunt was eastbound on Novato Boulevard at 7:45 p.m., a mile east of the Petaluma-Point Reyes Road, when the car skidded off a curve, crossed the center line and ran off the road, officers said. It hit a dirt embankment and two fence posts before throwing her out and rolling on her, according to patrolmen.

Alto Sanitary Tax Cut Seen

The Alto Sanitary District Board last night adopted a preliminary 1698-69 budget of $7,000, same total as this year's budget.

The total includes $3,500 for maintenance and $3,500 for capital outlay, Director Carl O. Heynen said. Heynen said the district hopes to lower slightly the present tax rate of 41.5 cents because of increased valuations.

Public hearing for the budget was set for 8 p.m. July 8 at the Alto-Richardson Bay fire station, 27 Shell Road.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Enrollments are closed at San Francisco State College.

Officials said yesterday that rejections of application could total 10,000 by Sept. 1.

San Francisco is the only one of the 18 state colleges that has no more space, said Rex Butler, director of admissions.

"Our quota was filled about two months earlier than last year," he said.

WAR

Military spokesmen reported that South Vietnamese marines and rangers, spearheaded by a column of tanks, also mounted a massive attack on North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in Gia Dinh. The spokesmen said the government troops overran Viet Cong positions and drove the enemy back a mile.

In the western part of the capital, the Chinese section of Cholon, government forces were still trying to root out rocket-firing, sniping enemy troops holed up in a residential area three miles from the presidential palace. Intelligence sources had estimated 15 to 20 guerrillas were holed up, but a defector reported 200 enemy in the area.

Senior U.S. officers say the intensified pressure on Saigon is part of a plan to influence the Paris talks between the United States and North Vietnam.

During last night the Saigon area was hit by some 40 enemy rockets. It was the biggest enemy bomardment of the war in the area, and as it began the city's sirens sounded for the first time to alert the 3 million inhabitants. But only 10 persons were reported injured and damage was comparatively minor.

Meanwhile the U.S. Mission announced that further investigation has confirmed that "a malfunctioning rocket fired by a U.S. helicopter" killed six leading South Vietnamese officials in Saigon Sunday and wounded four others.

"This judgment is based on further debriefing of aircraft crews and ground personnel and on examination of shrapnel recovered from the area," the mission said.

Youths In Court For Burglary

Two 18-year-old Novato youths were arraigned in Marin municipal court yesterday on a joint charge of burglary after a set of fingerprints led to their arrest.

Plea entries for the pair, Robert D. Vanoy of 485 Olive Street, and Richard Lester of 484 Olive Street, are scheduled for 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Sheriff's deputies said they found Vanoy's fingerprints at the C. R. Fedrick Co. office in Novato after it was burgled Friday night. Officers said when they arrested Vanoy, he implicated Lester.

Novato Couple's Condition Good

A Novato couple remained in good condition today in Novato General Hospital after an accident on Highway 101 Sunday.

John Orfanos, 39, of 1137 Mirabella Avenue, and his wife, Joanne, 34, suffered cuts and scapes when, the California Highway Patrol reported, a trailer being pulled by their southbound auto north of Novato was struck by a car being driven by William D. Grubaugh, 18, of Santa Rosa.

The Orfanos' car overturned and Mrs. Orfanos was thrown out. The accident happened at 11:25 a.m.

Collegians Term Benefit A Success

A benefit concert, sponsored by People Against Racism and featuring Vince Guaraldi and Cal Tjader Sunday at College of Marin raised about $200 for white students to donate to black students' projects.

A committee spokesman termed the affair a success and said, "next time we'll start earlier to promote such a benefit."

Also playing were Gale Garnett and the Gentle Reign and the Transatlantic Railroad. Performers donated their services.

Transient's Body Identity Found

An elderly transient, found dead near the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. tracks in Ignacio on Sunday, has been identified as Jerome Murray, 70, of Vallejo and other cities.

Asst. County Coroner Eugene R. Fontaine said today that death was apparently by natural causes. An autopsy was held at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael, where funeral arrangements are pending.

He said Murray had been dead about three days and carried no identification. He was identified through fingerprints sent to the State Identification and Investigation Bureau.

His body was found lying near the tracks across Highway 101 from Burge's restaurant by two children at 3:15 p.m.

Dozing Woman Driver Injured

A Petaluma woman suffered minor injuries early today when she apparently fell asleep and her car went off Highway 101 and landed upside down in a ditch, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Theresa Moller, 21, was treated at Petaluma General Hospital at 12:30 a.m.

Patrolmen said the accident occurred in the northbound lanes south of the entrance to the Redwood Sanitary Land Fill Inc., north of Novato.

Car's Occupants Land In Custody

A San Rafael police officer's suspicions, aroused when he spotted two men sleeping in a parked car, landed the two in the county jail today.

David B. Terrebone, 20, of 1112 Ruhlman Lane, Novato, and Joseph C. Wilson, 26, of 6 Rita Court, Novato, were booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana.

Police accounts said the two men were sleeping inside an auto parked on Bellam Road facing the screen of the Marin Motor Movies in San Rafael at 1 a.m.

When Terrebone opened the car door on request, officers said they spotted marijuana cigarette butts on the floor of the vehicle.

Bail for the two suspects had not been set this morning.

Collision Slightly Injures Driver

Richard Mackintosh, 32, of 27 Alderwood Court, San Rafael, suffered minor injuries in a two car accident yesterday in San Rafael, police reported.

His car collided at the intersection of San Pedro Road and Lockinvar Road-Loch Lomond Drive at 11:15 a.m. with an auto driven by Amedeo F. Aerial Search Set For Missing Skiff

The Coast Guard will make an aerial search today for Charles S. Masterson of Belmont, a 54-year-old Lockheed missile division supervisor, whose rented fishing skiff was found on the rocks on the Marin side of the Golden Gate Bridge Saturday night.

A cutter searched from the Golden Gate to a line running between Point Lobos and Point Bonita yesterday, but weather prevented an air search. Today's aerial search, the Coast Guard said, will extend eight miles outside the Golden Gate.

Tiburon Gets Reprieve On Use Of Yard

Tiburon Councilman Denis T. Rice finally won a 60-day reprieve on Belvedere's order for Tiburon to get its public works vehicles out of Belvedere's corporation yard, by July 1.

Rice appeared before the council and explained that Tiburon is exploring possible sites on Northwestern Pacific Railroad or Reed School District property for a corporation yard. "We are not dawdling," he assured the council.

COMPLAINTS CITED

"We gave you notice in March," Councilman John R. Moore reminded Rice. Reluctant to grant the extension, Moore added, "Why should our citizens continue to suffer? Our offer of the yard was only a temporary one."

Mayor Thomas S. Price reminded Rice that no rent has been paid for Tiburon's use of the yard and said that parking of the vehicles in the street next to the overcrowded yard on Lagoon Road, was a "nuisance to residents."

But Price favored granting the extra time to Tiburon, in hopes due neighbor city would reciprocate in "straightening out the boundary between the two cities" and because he "didn't know what Tiburon would do if evicted now."

Belvedere has been interested, since Tiburon's incorporation, in straightening out the boundary line, which runs through the boardwalk shopping center, to include more of the stores within Belvedere's boundary to add to its tax base.

JOINT YARD

Mayor Price said Belvedere also must eventually find a new corporation yard. He and Rice briefly mentioned the possiblity of a joint yard, but no action was taken. The council unanimously approved the extension for Tiburon.

Belvedere councilmen also told Rice the city was interested in the problem of a crossing guard at Reed School and was willing to help pay for one

Rice said he would recommend that Tiburon provide funds in its budget for next year for an adult supervisor for a school cadet crossing guard and signs.

Belvedere Fire Main Cost Estimates Cut

The Belvedere City Council learned last night that the cost of installing fire mains has been reduced and expressed hope that property owners will now withdraw their protests to an assessment district being formed.

A majority of property owners have protested against the district because the cost was too high.

Mayor Thomas S. Price reported that he and some of the property owners on Cliff, Crest and Eucalyptus roads met with General Mgr. William R. Seeger of the Marin Municipal Water District and persuaded him to cut the construction costs.

The district agreed to cut overhead expenses for the job, reducing its price from $51,000 to $46,000, Price said. He figured this would reduce the individual assessment costs from around $1,000 each to an average of $683 each.

The city agreed to assume $18,675 of the total cost of $55,400, leaving the balance of $36,725 to be paid by the assessment district.

The hearing was continued to the council's July 1 meeting, to hear further from the property owners involved.

The council expressed its approval of verbal and visual progress reports on installation of a cable in the southeast corner of the lagoon, by Cable TV of Marin.

He told the council his equipment would cross state and county property, but not Tiburon's, so he would not need the encroachment permit from that city, which Belvedere had requested.

Mayor Price directed Lewis to "continue seeking a permanent antenna site for the community antenna television service and asked for a further report next month but conceded warmly that "this is certainly progress."

Belvedere City Council Also:

RECREATION REQUESTS — Promised to include in next year's budget specific requests by the parks and recreation commission for maintenance jobs on city streets and lanes. Mayor Price suggested the city hire one or two boys from the Southern Marin Boys Club as local youths are not signing up for the city's summer work program.

BID CALL — Decided to call for bids for concrete work on Upper Beach Road, to be received by June 25, for award July 1.

NO FIREWORKS — Decided against a request from Sausalito to participate in a Fourth of July fireworks celebration.

DISASTER STATION — Approved use of the firehouse for a disaster first-aid station, as requested by Sheriff's Lt. William Johansen and Fire Chief Franklin J. Buscher of Tiburon.

WASTE CAN — Accepted with thanks a waste disposal container from the Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce. The gift has been placed in the city park next to the Community Center.

ORDINANCE — Introduced a traffic ordinance bringing up to date old ordinances regulating automobile and bicycle traffic in the city.

VIETNAM AID — Decided to support the Marine Corps Reserve civilian assistance program for Vietnam, by proclaiming Aug. 15 to Oct. 15 as fund-raising days for the program in Belvedere.

Marijuana Jury Trial On Docket

Jury trial of Jack Martin Green, 18, accused of marijuana possession, has been scheduled on the Marin Superior Court master calendar to start at 10 a.m. tomorrow before Judge Thomas F. Keating.

Green, of Mill Valley, had pleaded innocent March 2 to the charge that he had marijuana Jan. 9 in San Anselmo. Police arrested him after smelling what they said was marijuana in his car. A paper bag containing a green substance and one cigarette was confiscated.

Murder trial of Leon Estrada Robles, originally scheduled for this week, was continued yesterday for setting on the June 17 master calendar. Robles is accused of killing a fellow San Quentin Prison inmate by bludgeoning him and cutting his throat.

Novato Foundation Will Discuss Park

The proposed plans for Pioneer Memorial Park will be discussed by the Novato Civic Foundation at 8 p.m. today in Edwin Grundstrom's office, 1001 Fourth Street.

The foundation has promised the city that it will contribute $30,000 in labor, materials, services or money to the development of the park. The park plans will be reviewed by the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission next Monday.

City Limits Shift Gets A Welcome

The Belvedere City Council last night gladly consented to the transfer of seven homes from Tiburon to Belvedere, as requested in a petition from electors in the area.

Councilman Edwin J. Drechsel explained that long before Tiburon was incorporated, this area at the entrance to Belvedere was considered part of Belvedere. But, after Tiburon became a city, it was found the property had been included in the Tiburon boundary. "Residents have felt uncertain which city would take care of their needs," Drechsel said.

The homes run from numbers 8 to 18 on San Rafael Avenue and include numbers 1 and 3 on Lagoon Road. The petition was signed by electors Frederick W. Winn, Mrs. Helen Bewman and Mrs. Georgia Beale, Mrs. Louise Briston, Edmund L. Tery, Mrs. Howard L. Falker, Sidney Levy and E. H. Daniel.

City Atty. William Mackay said the petition would be filed with the board of supervisors but would also require the approval of Tiburon. Councilman Drechsel volunteered to ask Tiburon's consent at next Monday's Tiburon council meeting.

The council informally approved Drechsel's suggestion that the tax revenue from the seven properties be used for improving roads in the area, at the discretion of the planning commission.

Housing Panel To Hear Grocer

The Marin County Housing Authority will hear suggestions by grocer Daniel N. Hayden for improvements to Marin City commercial facilities when the authority meets aat 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Manzanita Community Center, Marin City.

Hayden has recently made unsuccessful efforts to find financing for a shopping center in Marin City.

The housing authority will first convene at 7:30 p.m. as the Marin County Redevelopment Agency. The agency will hear reports on problems which potential buyers of 14 residential lost for sale in Marin City have encountered in getting financing.

PARENTS: THIS SUMMER LET READAK

Help Your Child to New Success in School

Learn how a summer study program can unlock your child's unused potential

A little boy from San Francisco wrote us this note recently:

"I enjoyed your classes very much. But the time seemed to go by so fast! I partly wish I wasn't fixed up yet so I could go on with the classes. But I know what you have done for me will be a big help afterwards. And I'll learn how to divide just for you."

His instructor, Bill West, is still on our staff.

Course Outline

We don't just "fix up" children. We also teach 'A' and 'B' students how to read with greater comprehension, and how to read faster. One year the Valedictorian of Los Altos High School took our course, and went on to Stanford. We present courses at some of the toughest college preparatory schools in California.

Children of all ages are helped by reading improvement. We have small classes for second, third, and fourth graders. Fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders take our special courses. High school students know they must read well in order to get good grades. And get into college.

Readak speed reading programs have shown many adults how to read faster and understand more. Our adult speed reading courses are well known for results. We have helped teachers, doctors, attorneys, scientists, engineers, stockbrokers and many others.

Comprehension is the key to any Readak course — for second graders, or for adults. We teach children how to find the main idea, how to spot the key facts, how to remember what they've read. We teach them how a paragraph is organized, and how the paragraphs fit together to make an essay, or a story. We teach vocabulary development.

Phonics is important for younger children. The diagnostic phonics tests tell us if your child needs phonics instruction. He will learn to identify the long vowels, the short vowels, the digraphs, the diphthongs. And he will learn to unlock new words, phonetically.

Study Skills

How often parents have told us, "My child reads well. He is bright. But he doesn't know how to study." Readak has now developed a special Study Skills course. This program makes scholars out of students. Your child will learn:

- How to prepare for study
- How to take notes
- How to take tests
- How to concentrate
- How to remember
- How to write essays
- How to use time
- How to write compositions

Few regular school programs offer any course in study skills. Throughout school, your child can only do his best work if he knows how to study. Often, low grades mean only poor study habits.

Your child is given a diagnostic reading test before enrollment. After he is tested, you have a conference with his teacher. You receive the test results in clear, plain talk—no holding back. If we feel we can help, your child is put in the proper class for complete attention to his individual needs. There is no charge for the testing. If we cannot help, or you decide not to enroll, the test is free. In order to help your child, we must know his present reading ability. And we will not accept any child without proper testing.

Advanced Methods

Readak reading courses do not duplicate the public school approach. There is no conflict. Readak teaches all the most advanced and efficient methods of reading improvement.

. . . we won't guarantee we can get her into college, but Readak can give her something just as important — outstanding reading ability and love of books.

Often, regular school instruction is not enough. Classes are large. Teachers are busy. Your child is studying many subjects, not just reading. There is not enough time to concentrate on an intensive reading program.

Readak has extremely small classes. Our teachers are highly-trained reading experts. We teach reading only—not math, and science, and P.E. Just reading. The program is very concentrated, and very effective.

You will be very pleased by the results. Ask your neighbor. Probably her child went to Readak last summer. Children develop a new feeling of confidence. We want every child to be enthusiastic about reading. We want every child to love to read books.

You may know quite a bit about Readak already. We began in Palo Alto in 1957. This year marks our tenth summer session. We are successful because we have done a good job in helping children read better. Now there are Readak schools in Boston, New York, Washington, D.C., Detroit, New Orleans, Chicago, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Vancouver, B.C., Puerto Rico, Mexico City, Mill Valley, San Jose, Palo Alto and San Diego. Our Director is Kirk Lawson, a Stanford graduate in English. He has spent many years in the study and practice of reading techniques.

The success of Readak depends upon our success in helping your child. We intend to keep on growing.

COUNCIL WANTS MORE SIDEWALKS

Francisco Boulevard Firm Loses Appeal To Retain Angled Parking Minus Walks

The San Rafael City Council last night strongly favored sidewalk construction along Francisco Boulevard, east of Highway 101.

Councilmen unanimously upheld a planning commission decision to require a sidewalk as a condition of approval for a warehouse addition at 717 Francisco Boulevard.

Mayor C. Paul Bettin said he felt that property owners along the boulevard should take the initiative to provide sidewalks.

He stressed that angle parking alongside the boulevard is "not suitable." Sidewalks should be constructed as a "safety factor and convenience to the public" and would enhance any building, Mayor Bettini said.

Harold Lezzini, building designer representing Leonardi Properties, argued that meeting the sidewalk requirement would result in a loss of parking space. The proposed addition to Trombetta Distributors at 715 Francisco Boulevard would be a separate structure, he contended.

San Rafael City Council Also:

The meeting was set up after a recent exhibit of books by three Mill Valley printers, Joan Abelson's Rau Painu Press, Carol Cunningham's Sunflower Press, and librarian Ralph Moreno's Hartmus Handpress.

The library has added the subject heading "private presses" to its public catalog, and now buys works by Mill Valley authors and by Marin printers and illustrators.

San Rafael Backs Revisions For 101

San Rafael City Council last night approved plans for widening Highway 101 through the heart of the city from Third Street to just north of North San Pedro Road.

The plans by the state Division of Highways call for expansion of the highway from four to six lanes along the stretch and a revamping of on and off-ramps.

There would be a pedestrian overcrossing to the Coleman School area and a partial interchange at North San Pedro Road.

The southbound on-ramp from Merrydale would be improved with a new lane that would enable drivers to go from Merrydale to Lincoln Avenue without entering the main highway flow.

The southbound off-ramp at Lincoln Avenue, which now enters directly into the traffic flow, will be moved slightly southward and will have an acceleration lane before it enters the main traffic flow.

The southramp off-ramp at Mission will be straighter and will lead into a collector street extending to the Third Street on-ramp.

The main northbound on-ramp will extend diagonally from Irwin and Mission streets and Irwin Street will become a one-way street northbound.

Public Works Director Norris M. Rawles reported that the San Francisco district office of the state Division of Highways has recommended that the current northbound off-ramp to downtown be expanded to two lanes from Harbor Street into Irwin Street.

However, Rawles advised that the city shouldn't try to get this project included in the planned widening project because it would delay it.

Rawles said the state was awaiting city approval before putting the widening job out to bid.

At the recommendation of its traffic committee, the council approved four-way stop signs at Las Gallinas Avenue and Northgate Drive, where there is now only a two-way stop for Las Gallinas traffic. Rawles recommended that funds be included in the 1968-69 capital improvement budget for traffic signals at the intersection.

The council also agreed that the 4 to 6 p.m. no parking requirement on Lincoln Avenue from Second to Pacheco streets be removed on Saturdays and holidays. Sundays have always been excepted.

Blessed Sacrament Sets Graduation

Rev. Leonard Calegari, an instructor at Serra High School in San Mateo, will be the main speaker Friday at the graduation of 31 students from Blessed Sacrament School.

The ceremonies will be held at 7 p.m. at the Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church, 160 North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia.

Concert On Saturday Will Feature Pianist

The spring concert this Saturday by the College of Marin community orchestra will feature pianist Mary Rosenquist in Mozart's Piano Concerto No. 24.

Also on the program at 8:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theater will be works by Bartok, Stravinsky, Suppe and Berlioz. Conductors will be John H. Myers and Ruggiero Pelosi.

Streamlined Agenda Will Get Tryout

San Rafael City Council will have two agendas at its next regular meeting June 17, one in the usual format and a proposed streamlined agenda.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini proposed a revised agenda whereby routine items would be lumped together so that one vote could cover them all.

Councilman Louis H. Baar protested saying, "We're here to do a certain job and all this is trying to do is see how fast we can get out of here."

"Not necessarily," replied Mayor Bettini, who felt the change would improve meetings and leave more time to discuss important agenda items.

If anyone wanted discussion on an item included in the routine list, it would be pulled out of that list and be up for discussion, the mayor said.

Councilman Fred E. Jensen doubted the proposed new agenda would save much time, but suggested that the council get a "sample" streamlined agenda at its next session to see how one would be made up in comparison to the usual agenda.

Trial Set In Novatan's Death

Trial of Floyd Richard, 29-year-old San Francisco man charged with involuntary manslaughter of Sp./4 Harry James Smiley of Novato on Dec. 22, is scheduled to begin June 14 in San Francisco Superior Court.

Richard has pleaded innocent to the charge stemming from an incident in which police reported the gun of San Francisco policeman Norbert Gutierrez accidentally discharged during a struggle between Gutierrez and Richard.

Officers testified at a coroner's inquest that they had stopped Smiley, Richard and a third man, Herbert J. Fraser, 26, of San Francisco, because they believed a sale of marijuana was taking place.

Breeding Kennel Permit Rejected

A use permit for construction of breeding kennels for 50 dogs near Muir Beach was denied yesterday by Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill at a hearing at Civic Center.

Several residents of the Muir Beach area protested the application, pointing out that kennels would pollute the area's water supply and create noise in the entire valley.

J. Lou Kessler of San Francisco applied for a use permit for the kennels to be built on a 19-acre ranch owned by Gil Allard of Mill Valley on the south side of Frank Valley Road, about three-fourths of a mile west of Shoreline Highway, Muir Beach.

Cordill explained to Kessler that he could appeal the denial to the Marin County Planning Commission within seven days.

Students On Graduation Speaker List

Two pupils will be the principal speakers at the graduation of 426 students from James B. Davidson Junior High School in San Rafael on June 13.

The ceremonies will be held at 7 p.m. at Alberts Field.

The student speakers will be Larry French on "Bridging the Gap Now" and Mary Jane Ward on "Bridging the Gap in the Future."

A past graduate of James B. Davidson Junior High School, John W. Buehler, now a graduating senior at San Rafael High School, will address the junior high graduates on the topic, "The High School Speaks to the Graduate."

Awards will be presented to the outstanding boy by Fred Brylka of the San Rafael Optimists' Club and to the outstanding girl by Joseph Sousa of the San Rafael Elks' Club. Winners of the awards will not be announced until graduation.

Presentation of diplomas will be by Carl Brown, president of the San Rafael Board of Education.

217 To Receive Diplomas From Del Mar School

Diplomas will be given to 217 eighth grade students at Del Mar School in Tiburon, 4 p.m. June 13.

Student speakers will be Buck Sherwin, Lissy Manheim and Linda Hall. David Curtis will act as master of ceremonies.

Selections will be offered by the Del Mar orchestra, trumpet and clarinet ensembles, directed by music teacher Chris Bogios, and by the graduation choral ensemble, directed by Dr. Hyman Krongard.

Diplomas will be presented by Principal Robert A. Gaw, Supt. Dr. H. Joe Edgington, and Mrs. Alyce Farkas, trustee.

The invocation will be given by Rev. Calvin G. Erisch of Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church and the benediction by Rev. John O'Neill of St. Hilary's Church.

Pleads Innocent To Store Burglary

Innocent plea to a burglary charge was entered in Marin Superior Court yesterday by Thomas Gaylon Wood, 28, of San Pablo.

Judge Harold J. Haley then scheduled a jury trial for the week of Aug. 12. Also to be tried then is co-defendant George Franklin Battensby, 58, of San Anselmo, who earlier had also pleaded innocent.

Burglars Hit Candy Machines At Theater

Burglars took about $40 worth of candy and coins from vending machines at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael Saturday, police reported today.

The thieves gained entry between 8 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. to the theater projection booth on the roof of the theater building after climbing to the roof from an adjacent building.

Census-Takers Finish Survey In San Rafael

Residents of San Rafael and outlying areas comprising the San Rafael High School District were advised today that the special census doorbell-ringers have finished their month-long job.

"If anyone rings your doorbell, they are not official census takers," said Herbert G. Hotchner, planning director for the City of San Rafael. "The census has been completed."

Results of the population count, conducted for the California Department of Finance by the city and high school district, will be available about the middle of June, Hotchner said, after the data has been processed by the state.

Printed totals on special questions — such as population mobility, commuter transportation needs, recreation needs — asked by census-takers will be given to the city council about July 1, according to Hotchner. A detailed study and analysis with a view to the city's future needs is to be made by the San Rafael planning department and will be available in the fall.

The census, primarily undertaken to accurately count the city's population for state gasoline tax refunds disbursed on the basis of population, was broadened to include the high school district as an aid in future school planning by the San Rafael Board of Education.

Housing At Hilarita To Be Studied

An ad hoc committee will meet Thursday to discuss the future of the Hilarita housing site, Tiburon Councilman Thomas E. Drohan announced yesterday.

The meeting, at 8 p.m. at city hall, will be a study session with no action to be taken, but the public is welcome to attend, Drohan said.

Mayor William R. Bremer, Drohan and Donald O. Stutsman, director of the Marin County Housing Authority, will prepare answers to various questions raised by the council and by citizens, on a proposed moderate-income housing plan for Hilarita. Present structures are to be demolished in 1972.

The council has been considering a policy decision on whether or not Tiburon wants moderate-income housing.

The council at its June 10 meeting, plans to reschedule the final hearing on Hilarita, which will probably be sometime in July, according to Drohan. The hearing, originally scheduled for June 10, is being put over to allow time for this committee meeting.

Committee Due Bridge Hiring Policy

Hiring practices, suicide prevention, improved approaches and pending legislation affecting the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will be heard by district committees this week.

Widening of the San Francisco approaches to the bridge will be considered by the highways, roads and traffic committee at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow.

Various bills before the Legislature, both to expand the district's powers and to completely eliminate the district, will be considered by the legislation committee at 2 p.m. Friday. The security committee will consider a program to prevent suicides at 2 p.m. Thursday.

The long-awaited report on district employment procedures will be presented at 10:30 a.m. Friday by the joint employment and conciliation and rules and policy committee. District directors voted 9-3 in November to hire a management consultant firm to develop personnel policies.

Personnel matters, for which there are no district policies, are handled by Gen. Mgr. James Adam, who has been under fire for alleged racial discrimination in hiring. A $9,000 contract for the study was awarded to Ernst and Ernst of San Francisco. The State Personnel Board has offered to do the study for $6,500.

All four hearings will be in the administration building.

Miller Creek To Graduate 196

Graduation ceremonies for 196 eighth graders will be held June 13 at the Miller Creek School, San Rafael. The outdoor exercises will start at 7:15.

Speakers will be Dixie School District trustee Neal McNamara and graduating students Laurel Elkjer and Mark Blaze.

Too Easy To Remove Child From Parents?

"Some juvenile court critics complain that it is far too easy in most states for employees of the juvenile courts to take a child from his parents. This may be simply on the say-so of neighbors or others who complain."

So wrote Howard James of the Christian Science Monitor in his book, "Crisis in the Courts."

MANY MARIN PARENTS would agree with writer James. And some of them would go farther—that it is also too easy for them to be saddled with bills they cannot pay, again on the recommendation of juvenile probation officers.

Several of these have come to light since the Independent-Journal on May 9 published an account of the troubles of a Novato couple whose 15-year-old daughter was made a ward of the court and placed in the Marin Foundation home in Larkspur at a cost of $620 per month.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner of juvenile court, when asked about this, at first declared "it simply is not so" that parents are forced to pay such charges for children who are taken from their control. But Mark J. Falcone, county revenue officer who is charged with collecting the bills, said "we don't forgive it until we feel they have made every effort to pay." In some cases, Falcone said, hard-to-collect bills have been turned over to collection agencies.

THE PROBATION OFFICER recommends where a child taken from his or her parents should be placed. If the child is put in Juvenile Hall, the parents are charged $5 per day while he is there; the rest of the cost is borne by the taxpayers of the county.

However, if the child is placed in the Marin Foundation home at $620 per month, or in Sunny Hills for $320 per month, or in a farway Los Angeles home at about $650 per month — as happened in one case reported to the Independent-Journal — the family is billed for the full amount.

WHERE IS THE EQUITY in this?

A Juvenile Hall charge has been upheld in a court test elsewhere in California on the basis that parents should not be able to profit from their children's misdemeanors. In other words, they should bear as much cost as if the child were at home.

But it is a rare family that pays out $650, or even $320, per month for each child at home, in addition to the costs of home maintenance that remain constant regardless of the presence of the child.

Judge Gardiner says the placement is recommended by the probation officer. The judge usually goes along with this recommendation.

The probation department says the cost of an institution is not considered in placing the child. He is put in an institution that the officer thinks would be best for him.

The parents have nothing to say about it, for the child is a ward of the court. Neither do they have anything to say about how long he remains. But they are billed for the cost. And "we don't forgive it until we feel they have made every effort to pay," says the revenue officer.

WROTE HOWARD JAMES in his book:

The guesses may be expensive for both the juveniles and their parents. And the situation in Marin seems too much like a series of officials each pointing his finger at the next one and saying, "He did it!"

Fast Times—But Not For Us

They are enough to make a Marin commuter's mouth water.

Time from Market and Montgomery streets in San Francisco to Twelfth Street and Broadway in Oakland is estimated at nine minutes. Time from Fremont, south of Hayward, to downtown Oakland is 28 minutes; from Concord, beyond the hills in Contra Costa County, to the same destination, 25 minutes; from Richmond, 19 minutes. From Daly City to Market and Montgomery, the time is shown as 14 minutes.

From San Rafael to downtown San Francisco via bus or car, however, the peak hour time will remain nearer an hour.

New Law Recognizes Fact Mail Service Is Unreliable

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Slow deliveries by the United States mail finally has reached the point where official recognition to the situation has been given by the California Legislature, but unfortunately, that august body can do nothing to speed up the process.

Instead, it has accepted slow delivery as a fact of life, and made it easier on parties in lawsuits to respond to legal documents served through the mail.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has signed AB 593, by Assemblyman Frank Murphy, R-Santa Cruz, which provides that instead of one day, a party now has two days within which to do an act, or exercise a right from the time of service. Service, in this case, is completed at the time a document addressed to a party is dropped in any mail box.

Further, another extra day is allowed for every hundred miles between the place of deposit and the place of address.

MURPHY SAID the new law, introduced at the request of the California State Bar, was needed because of slow mail service, especially in such large metropolitan areas as Los Angeles.

"The volume of mail," he declared, "is increasing faster than the efforts of the post office to cope with it. In metropolitan areas where mail is moving less than 100 miles, it takes more than one day to move it that far. It seems only fair to allow an extra day for responses."

This is fine for the legal fraternity, as it takes the lawyers off the hook in getting their clients into the courts. But it accomplishes nothing toward weeding out the inefficiencies of the post office.

However, there may be some hope. At least, the post office department recognizes there is a problem. W. Marvin Watson, the postmaster general, has called another conference of major mail users in Washington, D.C.

"THE POSTAL service is indispensable to our economic welfare," he says in the announcement.

"Most businesses simply could not survive without the postal communications network.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

'Big Brother' Tactics Decried

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Mary Leydecker's column on the big brother tactics of Marin's juvenile department was revealing indeed. As public servants on the public payroll they apparently have served neither well nor wisely.

Imagine a teen-age delinquent girl not wishing to live at home with her family and turning herself in to Juvenile Hall where she was successful in playing them against her parents. Later they placed her in a "non profit" home for girls that costs $620 per month. Since this home received a tax grant of $54,000 plus $8,000 in gifts, it would seem from their rates that there is some excessive overhead. A probation officer is quoted as saying that the cost is never considered when these placements are made. The real victims of this the parents will owe as much as $12,000 within two years and a possible lein on their home, thanks to Big Brother.

This is the sort of senseless bureaucratic tyranny we might expect to find in a police state instead of an enlightened country. This big brother conduct is inexcusable, unpardonable, and intolerable. A free society that will tolerate and accept this is in danger and may neither deserve nor long remain free.

Officers Making Racket Of Law

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Our sheriff department is making a racket out of law enforcement. I have been arrested twice in six months time on false arrest, have spent three to four hours each time before being allowed to go bail . . . Neither did I get a place to sit but stood three to four hours on my feet.

The only reason I have been arrested is I know my rights and don't hesitate to remind the sheiff of such. When I ask for my rights I am throwed into the drunk tank and told to keep my mouth shut as I have no rights not even freedom of speech. The grand jury was to conduct an investigation, but it is blocked by a deputy sheriff lying and his superiors will swear to it, I honestly believe . . .

I am not saying they are all bad but we do have several undesirables in the sheriff department. Something should be done . . .

Both of the times I have been arrested, I wasn't allowed to go to court. Charges weren't brought because the courts don't want the public to know how rotten the sheriff's department is.

Waste Disposal Role In Conservation

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The news story in the Independent-Journal of May 25, "Historic Potomac Study To Save River," is indeed timely. Its rehabilitation is supposed to serve as a model for the entire country. It could become a pilot plant, which would spearhead a drive to stop pollution everywhere, if it is not allowed to become a boondoggle for political advantage. . . .

At this time, when the safety and well being of every community is threatened by the pollution of rivers and lakes, the air we breathe, our ocean and the earth itself, the broad meaning of conservation must be brought home to every citizen. . . .

If enough citizens who share our concern would communicate with our law makers, our battle would be more than half won.

Busses, Ferries, And Second Deck

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of April 22 about the proposition that a Marin County bus company be started, stated that there was no reason to believe any greater number of commuters would ride the buses than they do now—regardless of who operated them. I agree with this thinking, and Marin taxpayers would have to subsidize these buses unless the fares were considerably higher than at present. San Francisco has been doing this for years to keep from raising the Muni RR fares. It has been costing the S.F. taxpayers millions of dollars each year without even replacing worn-out rolling stock. It has been reported that it would take a 35-cent fare to put the lines on a break-even basis.

San Francisco is suggesting that Marin have passenger ferry service across the bay. We built the GG bridge because ferries were inadequate years ago, and traffic has certainly increased since then. With S.F. opposed to any new vehicle bay crossings, it would be years before they might change their thinking. The GG bridge directors have done an excellent job of management over the years under constant criticism by those wanting to take over a successful operation. During the years of inflation, bridge fares have been lowered . . . I would like to see the present management start construction of a lower deck immediately.

So much time has already been wasted with no decision or agreement by the many factions for and against a second bridge or under-bay tube, that if any agreement is ever reached, the present single deck span would be the worst bottleneck west of Long Island before anything else could be built.

Passenger ferries are a possibility with the proper equipment. The only so-called "modern" high-speed ferries operating extensively today are hydrofoil vessels. They are used in many places around the world—offshore as well as in inland waters. They are a proven method of aquatic passenger transportation.

It would be interesting to know how many driving commuters would be interested in using these ferries. There should be at least four ferries operating to start.

Reagan For President? Governor Is Definitely Already Candidate

SACRAMENTO — The Reagan-for-President backers have every reason to be sure they already have a candidate.

It is increasingly evident that Gov. Ronald Reagan is more than draftable; he is doing his part to help it along.

He is today a candidate on-the-go — willing, ready, active — and his supporters are, too. He has toured 22 states since September.

Visible and behind-the-scenes evidence makes it clear that Reagan believes his nomination possible, that he wants to be nominated and is putting up lightning rods to draw the political lightning to the right spot at the right time.

His advocates across the country — and there are many — no longer have any doubt about it.

Those who have watched Reagan and his staff at close hand here in Sacramento never had any doubt about it from the time he became governor.

THE DEVELOPMENTS which confirm Reagan's open though not quite declared candidacy — and declaration is now only a matter of timing — are these:

1 — Reagan is bluntly refusing to promote or to lend himself to any alliance with Nelson Rockefeller to try to preclude an early ballot nomination of Richard Nixon. Three reasons: He doesn't want to offend his strongly conservative backers by appearing to deal with the liberal Rockefeller. He does not want to do anything which would openly offend Nixon delegates among whom he has large second-choice support. And instinctively he is against deals.

2 — In written as well as oral statements Reagan is announcing flatly that he would refuse any vice presidential nomination. This is the correct and traditional stand of any man who wishes to be nominated for the presidency.

3 — During his recent five-state tour in the South and Midwest, Reagan moved his candidacy more visibly into the open. He began to stress national and international issues. He took pains to relate his record in California to the national scene and to say, in effect, what's good for California is good for the U.S.A. When, at airports and party fund-raising rallies, he would see a small forest of Reagan-for-President placards, he would call attention to them by shyly remarking that he "was trying not to see all those signs out there." He was seeing them all right and they were good to the eyes.

NOT THAT REAGAN is egregiously wishful about his chances of making it. He knows his chances are slim, that Nixon is way ahead, that even most conservatives would be reasonably content with Nixon, and that many Republicans, including Californians, feel he has not yet shown enough or had enough experience to be ready for the presidency.

But his ardent backers — and they are growing in number — tip off their estimate of Reagan's assets in these terms: more conservative than Nixon, more charismatic than Rockefeller, less divisive than Goldwater.

That's something — and unquestionably Reagan has the urge and the talent to make the most of it.

Rumors Of Coups Abound In Latin American Politics

By WILBUR G. LANDREY

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Two years of relative political quiet in Latin America appears to be nearing an end. Rumors of impending military coups are again in the air in several countries.

The last military takeover in Latin America took place in Argentina in June, 1966. It brought to power the present government of President Juan Carlos Ongania.

However, nervousness and unrest have grown in recent months, not only in Argentina but in Chile, Panama, Peru and Paraguay.

ONGANIA, 54 appears still firmly in office in Argentina. But the country has been rife with rumors something could happen this year. Most of them have sprung from the struggle for influence within the government between "Nationalists," favoring an Argentina-First policy, and "Liberals," favoring free enterprise and economic cooperation.

Across the River Plate is Uruguay, once known as the "Switzerland of South America." It is undergoing its worst political and economic crisis in years with cabinet reshuffles, repeated devaluations and continuous strikes.

In Chile, on the western side of the Andes, coup rumors also flourished early in May, mostly spread by the Communists. Christian Democratic President Eduardo Frei named a general as minister of defense to deal with army discontent over pay, and the rumors have subsided.

NORTH OF CHILE, the army has been out of power in Peru only since 1963, when President Fernando Belaude Terry took over from a military junta which annulled the 1962 elections. Coup rumors also have flourished there recently, although, again, nothing has happened.

Finally, there is Panama. There has been open speculation that Brig. Gen. Bolivar Vallarino, the commander of the National Guard, might take over in the present election crisis as a predecessor once did in the 1950's.

OTHER EDITORS SAY

ABA Ignores Basic Issues

(Reprinted from Wall Street Journal)

The editors of the American Bar Association Journal have a point when they complain that much of the press has indulged in "extravagant" reactions to the association's proposals limiting disclosure of pre-trial information. Their own comments, though, display little apparent effort to understand the basic things the press has been saying . . .

Specifically, an editorial in the April ABA Journal calls for cooperation and abjures "polemic editorial debate." Despite such high-minded professions, it manages to dismiss objections by the press as a reflection of economic interest in using crime news to sell newspapers.

That interest still infects a few sensational papers but is not especially pertinent to today's typical newspaper, which sells papers mainly by subscription rather than from newsstands. To say the press, generically, has a direct economic interest in sensational crimes is no less a canard then to say lawyers, generically, are ambulance chasers.

The debate between bar and press is not so much a reflection of economic interests as of conflict in philosophical assumptions. The press upholds the traditional democratic ideal that truth will win in a free and open marketplace. The bar tends to believe, on the other hand, that truth is best served when filtered through the various technicalities of the courtroom.

While we find some of those technicalities bizarre, we would certainly admit that the bar's general notion serves important purposes in many circumstances and that formal rules of justice are quite necessary. In the long run a free marketplace of ideas will refute a lynch mob, but that is cool comfort to the fellow it lynched. Even so, a democratic nation will move carefully indeed with measures that tend to choke off the information that fuels public discussion.

Anyone who argues that the ABA proposals can have no such effect is either foolish or entirely disingenuous. If statements by law enforcement and court officials are limited to a short list of specific formalities, the public clearly will have less opportunity to learn how law enforcement is carried out in their society.

Attempt To Communicate Shows Novatans Unaware Of Tensions

"You'll find no ghettos in Novato because Novato is an integrated community. We've been able to handle our race problems without incident here."

So I was told by a Novato resident last week when I came to this northern Marin city to fill in for vacationing Terry Newell. There was no hint of cynicism in my informant's voice — he sincerely believed what he said.

Last Monday I watched black and white students talk about racial problems at Novato High School. The blacks were visitors from Polytechnic High School in San Francisco. An air of sincerity and good humor prevailed among both blacks and whites. But as the discussion continued, it became apparent that a great majority of the Novato students were unable to relate to what the black students were saying.

The Novato students were innocents in an age of racial tension; they were unaware of what the blacks were talking about when one black student called for a black police force.

"You're segregating yourselves," a white boy argued. The black answered: "We're already segregated; we just want a little protection while we are segregated."

WHAT HE WAS trying to explain and what the sincere white boy could not grasp is that the militant young Negro of today would rather be segregated with a black police force in a black community.

In talking about jobs, another black youth said one Negro woman couldn't work because she had 13 kids at home to care for. "She should have thought about that before she had all the kids," commented a pretty white girl. Again no concept of the realities of Negro life.

The Novato students wanted to understand, but they apparently lacked experiences or knowledge to use as a reference point.

This is not to say there were no aware white kids at the meeting. There were.

But Novato is a community that has had little experience with Negroes. True, because of Hamilton Air Force Base, it has had more experience than some other Marin communities, such as Belvedere. But the Negro of Hamilton is not the negro of the ghetto. He has a job, housing and some money. He is not material for the Black Panthers — yet.

And, at Novato High School, officials report that only 20 students out of a school population of nearly 2,000 are Negroes.

A PASSING COMMENT: The militant Negro students from Poly were much more flexible in their attitudes than many of the white students. The white students, like so many white adults, are polarized. But the blacks were still trying to communicate, to help the whites understand their attitudes.

AS A MILL VALLEY commuter to Novato for three weeks, the morning view of the Marin's beautiful brown rolling hills dotted with oaks is enough to make a card carrying conservationist of me. These hills should remain untouched, yet some day they undoubtedly will be covered with houses.

City council scene: Councilman Douglas R. Merrill protested higher dog license fees for unspayed females than for males or spayed females at Tuesday night's meeting on a dog control ordinance. Answered Mayor Harley A. McAskill: "Female dogs are like other females; they are producers. They compound problems."

"Then perhaps we ought to have higher traffic fines for women drivers," mused Merrill.

Ancient Wisdom Lies Behind Ceremony Of The Mango Trees

On the island of St. Vincent in the Lesser Antilles of the Caribbean, the natives each fall enact a solemn ritual designed to drive evil spirits out of their mango trees. They beat the trees viciously with bamboo poles until the limbs are stripped and shorn of their foliage, leaving them forlorn and dreary. With the coming spring, however, the branches come alive again, stronger than ever and rich with golden fruit and in abundance.

Our horticulturists know about this ritual. They do it to their trees, too, but without the ceremony and the liturgy, and they call it "pruning."

Biologists are also aware of this phenomenon and they call it "self-preservation." They know that a certain amount of pressure is essential for the preservation of a healthy and sturdy species.

WELL OVER 2,000 years ago, man learned, for his own survival and the enhancement of his own welfare, he needed pressure. He found he needed pressure as he needed foor and drink, love and beauty. The ancient Hebrews thought so highly of this truth they recorded it in their Talmud. It goes something like this:

"From the grape comes the good wine but only under pressure."

If you know anything about wine making you know that no pressure produces no grape juice and too much pressure produces too much acid and makes for a bitterness. A lovely saying.

THIS TRUTH man has known for a long time. It is a truth he has applied to his plants and to his animals and with great success. But rarely does he apply it to himself.

From the time man first stepped out of the darkness of his cave into the light of day and right up to the present, he has learned many things. He has learned to sail ships, build roads, erect skyscrapers and bounce radar beams off the surface of the moon. He has learned about stars and the distance to Alpha Centuri and chlorophyl and cabbages and relativity and E equals MC squared.

He has also learned a few things about himself. But these, it seems, he is striving diligently to forget . . . and with alarming success.

And one of these is this business of pressure.

HE SEEKS to alleviate the harshness and difficulties of his existence and to make his life as comfortable and pleasant as possible. This causes a dilemma. For should he succeed, he will remove from his life the element of pressure. Without pressure he will soften, weaken and ultimately destroy himself. We Americans, from experience, have a saying reflecting this: "From shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in three generations."

We were handed by our founding fathers freedom, opportunity and a tough heritage. What we make of these gifts is up to each of us. Each man has the freedom and the opportunity. The rest is up to him. This is his pressure and this he must have. Take it away, remove it, and you remove the spirit which is man.

TO HELP YOUR fellow man is a wonderful thing, but to help without evaluating what the result will be could very well prove grievous.

President Lincoln said it this way:

Hoover Denies Reports Color Crime Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's wishful thinking, says J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to argue that improved methods of keeping crime statistics account for the apparent increase in criminal activity.

FBI figures, he said in the agency's monthly "Law Enforcement Bulletin," are carefully edited to avoid such "paper increases."

For instance, Hoover said, when state or local agencies update their reporting methods, such data are not included in the FBI totals reflecting national trends until the revised systems have been in use for at least two years.

Regardless of reporting methods, he said, it is generally accepted that really serious crimes such as murder and armed robbery do not go unreported. Thus, he said, annual totals for these crimes should remain fairly stable instead of rising sharply.

But in 1967 armed robberies shot up 30 per cent from the 1966 totals and the increase in murders was 12 per cent, Hoover said.

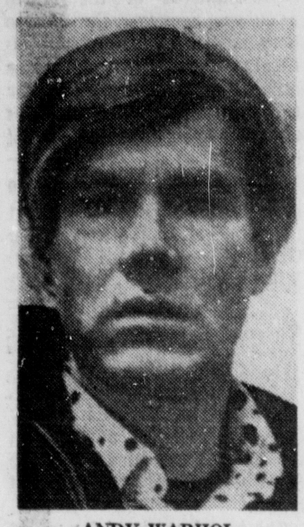
Pop Artist Andy Warhol Wounded In Studio; Actress Being Held



ANDY WARHOL
50-50 chance

VALERIA SOLANIS
Too much control

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say Valeria Solanis, a young actress who appeared in one of Andy Warhol's underground film epics, told them she shot the trend-setting pop artist because "I am a flower child. He had too much control over my life."

Warhol, 41, whose films, sculpture and paintings inspired new currents in pop culture, remained in critical condition at Columbus Hospital today with doctors saying he had a 50-50 chance for survival.

The artist, who first outraged critics with his paintings of Campbell Soup cans and outsized reproductions of Brillo boxes that sold for $1,300 each, was shot yesterday afternoon in the movie studio he called a "factory."

Mario Amaya, a writer and art dealer from London, who was visiting Warhol was also hit in the barrage of five bullets but he suffered only a graze wound in the back and was released after treatment.

Miss Solanis, 28, surrendered four hours after the shooting by announcing to a traffic policeman in the Times Square area, "Police are looking for me."

She was wearing a trenchcoat with a loaded pistol stashed in each side pocket. After questioning she was booked on charges of felonious assault and possession of a deadly weapon.

The slight, 5-foot-3 brown-haired actress who had a role in Warhol's film, "I, a Man," a parody of a Swedish film about a nymphomaniac, chatted freely with newsmen during her booking.

About the shooting she said, "I've got a lot of very involved reasons." She described herself as "a writer" but gave no address saying, "I live nowhere."

The shooting took place about 4:30 p.m. in Warhol's sixth floor office on Union Square with five other persons, including Amaya, present.

The young woman emerged from the self-service elevator and, Amaya said, "I saw her walk into the office, and we introduced ourselves to one another while Andy was busy opening mail."

"I turned away from her to go to a cigarette box," Amaya said. "Suddenly, I heard several loud noises, bangs. I looked toward a window at first because I thought it might be some nutty New York sniper."

He said Warhol, wearing a brown leather jacket, trousers and boots, cried out, "Don't do it, No! No!" Seconds later Amaya was hit.

"Other people then rushed into the room, and she backed away, onto the lift," Amaya continued. "The lift closed and she started down. We tried to jam the elevator mechanism, and then we all turned to help Andy."

Dr. Massimo Bazzini, medical director at the hospital, said Warhol had been shot in the left abdomen and bullets had also entered the left and right sides of the chest.

Warhol, the son of Czechoslovak immigrants, lived here with his mother in a three-story house on the Upper East Side. He enjoyed being vague about his background.

"I'd prefer to remain a mystery," he once told an interviewer. "I never like to give my background and, anyway, I make it all different every time I'm asked."

His approach to art ignored many classic values and concentrated on celebrating the beauty and rhythm he found in the images of mass culture from comic strips to the celluloid fantasies of Hollywood.

Topping Out For Tallest In The West

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 1,000-pound steel beam, accompanied by a six-foot pine tree and an American flag, soared 770 feet through the air yesterday to "top out" the tallest skyscraper outside of New York or Chicago—the Bank of America's new world headquarters building.

When it reached the top and swung into place, some 300 persons on the ground watching the action on closed-circuit television burst into applause.

Though some spectators appeared anxious as the beam swayed briskly in the wind on its way up, the "topping out" went off without a hitch.

But F. J. Murphy, manager of Kaiser Steel Corp.'s construction division, which erected the 52-story building, said the beam would have to be moved out temporarily "while we lower the hoists and equipment" that are blocked by it.

Before Claire Giannini Hoffman, daughter of Bank of America founder A. P. Giannini, pulled a giant switch signaling that the beam be lifted, a number of officials praised the new building.

Of the structure, Mayor Joseph L. Alioto said: "It's a combination of the great work of A. P. Giannini and Henry Kaiser and it's one of the great factors in the economic development taking place in San Francisco."

The framework of the building took one year and 25,000 tons of steel to put together. It is scheduled for completion in 1969.

San Franciscan Hurt In Wreck

Robert P. McClary, 36, of San Francisco, suffered a cut over his left eye and a chin cut when his motorcycle spilled at Shoreline Highway and Petaluma-Point Reyes Road, north of Point Reyes Station, at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported yesterday.

McClary, who also suffered scrapes of his right hand and both knees, told deputies he would be treated by his own doctor. He was traveling north when he started to make a turn, changed his mind and spilled, officers said.

$3.5 Million Being Asked In Blue Chip Share Feud

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Raley's Inc., a Sacramento grocery chain which holds 10 shares of stock in The Blue Chip Stamp Co., has filed a $3.5 million damage suit against the stamp company.

Raley's, which also asked for the right to acquire 42 additional shares in Blue Chip, filed the suit yesterday in Superior Court.

The Sacramento firm contends that it has been discriminated against and not treated equally with other stockholders who have representatives on the board of directors of Blue Chip.

Defendants in the suit along with Blue Chip are nine retail grocery stores which have a controlling interest, and 15 individuals who have been or are on the board of directors.

The suit asks 42 shares at the 1956 value of $10 each. Raley's says a share is now worth more than $50,000.

Fourth Of July Events Scheduled

A traditional Fourth of July celebration complete with fireworks, a parade, band concerts, art show, baseball games and a carnival has been planned for Larkspur and Corte Madera by the chambers of commerce of the two towns.

Richard G. Burns, who is co-chairman with Richard Taricco, said that the fireworks will be set off after sunset from a spot near the Corte Madera Recreation Center and will be visible for miles.

During the day there will be an art show in Corte Madera Town Park and a little league all-star games in Larkspur as well as band concerts in both cities. A parade in the afternoon will wind from Larkspur to the Corte Madera center, where a carnival will be held.

Burns said that a cable car runabout will transport people free from one event to another.

ACLU Attacks Schools For March Penalties

The Marin chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union today rose to the defense of Marin high school students who were penalized for cutting school to attend an anti-war demonstration at the Selective Service headquarters in San Rafael on April 26.

Irving R. Cohen of Mill Valley, chairman of the Marin chapter of ACLU, said his group had sent copies of a resolution to Tamalpais Union, Novato Unified and San Rafael High School districts, pointing out that some of the penalties imposed on students were "undemocratic and unequal."

Cohen noted that 45 students at Drake High School had received suspensions and F grades for cutting school to attend the demonstration, whereas students who cut school to go skiing, for example, are not similarly punished.

The resolution, passed by the ACLU, says in part:

"This chapter strongly supports the principle that all absences regardless of cause should be dealt with under a single standard with emphasis on the relevance to the educational process rather than merely punitive measures.

"And be it further resolved, accordingly, that this chapter urges that in instances where students have suffered undemocratic and unequal punishments, the records of such students be changed to reflect the foregoing principle. Specifically we ask, where relevant in the present instance, the expunging of F grades and the fact of suspension from the students' permanent records.

"Student rights are questions of increasing relevance in today's world, and this chapter is extremely desirous of explaining the issues involved and stands ready to discuss them with academic and administration authorities at any level."

Peace Party Threatens Write-In Vote Action

An organizer for the Peace and Freedom Party, California's new radical party, said yesterday that the party will take legal action against Marin's county government if write-in votes for the party's last-minute candidate in the Sixth Congressional District are not counted today.

The object of the party's ire is a new state law which requires a write-in candidate to file a notice of his candidacy in each county in which he wants his votes counted, and to pay the regular filing fee for the office sought.

According to a press release by the full-time party organizer, Joseph Howard of San Anselmo, a San Francisco social worker, Walter Battaglia had met both requirements in San Francisco and "has every right to have any vote cast for him in Marin County counted."

The Sixth District includes most of Marin and the western half of San Francisco.

Marin's assistant county clerk for elections, John F. Musser Jr., however, said that the secretary of state's office had confirmed that Battaglia failed to meet the new law's requirements, and thus write-in votes for him could not be counted in Marin — but would count in San Francisco.

"Mr. Musser's action is nothing more than discrimination against minority political parties," said Howard.

No write-in candidate qualified in Marin, Musser previously said.

Howard's promise of legal action is academic, in any event, because if Battaglia gets one vote in San Francisco's portion of the district, he automatically will be his party's nominee in the whole district, including Marin.

Novotny Enters Plea Of Innocent In Slaying Case

One suspect in the Dec. 6 murder of Wesley L. Marshall, 68, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday and the other suspect filed a motion of insufficient evidence.

Judge Harold J. Haley heard the innocent plea of Dennis C. Novotny, 22, of San Rafael, then scheduled setting for a jury trial for 11 a.m. next Monday.

The motion was filed by co-defendant John Arceo, 31, of Fairfax, and declared the grand jury transcript used to indict Arceo fails to show he aided in commission of the crime.

Arguments on the motion were also scheduled by Judge Haley for 11 a.m. next Monday. The pair is accused of the fatal beating and stomping of Marshall of San Rafael. An application by Arceo for a writ to suppress evidence in his trial has been denied by the First District Court of Appeals in San Francisco.

Minor Injuries In Head-On Crash

A San Francisco man suffered minor injuries, a mother and her three daughters escaped injury, in a head-on crash yesterday on Shoreline Highway near Tamalpais Valley.

Ronald G. Jennings, 33, was treated at Marin General Hospital for scalp and nose cuts.

His car, at 8:05 p.m., hit some gravel on the road's shoulder, one-quarter mile west of the Marin Heliport, spun out and came across the center line to collide with a car driven by Marilyn J. Koenig, 34, of San Bruno, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Patrol Dog Dies In Fall During Chase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Heiko, an 80-pound German Shepherd, won't be on call with policeman Edward Torres anymore. He died yesterday in an attempt to corner a burglar.

Torres and the dog, a member of the police canine corps, went to a new car agency where an alarm had been tripped.

Thieves had piled anew car full of auto parts and equipment, but took off when they heard police approaching.

Heiko followed them to the roof, scrambling to the top of a fire escape. Then he leaped a three and one-half foot parapet and either slipped or lost his balance, falling to his death 48 feet below.

His suspect escaped.

Torres had the task of telling his four youngsters that their part-time pet, who joined the dog patrol 18 months ago, wouldn't be coming home any more.

St. Patrick's First Class Numbers 40

St. Patrick's School in Larkspur will award diplomas to 40 members of its first eighth grade graduating class Sunday in ceremonies scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. in St. Patrick's Church.

Rev. James J. Healy will officiate.

Probation Workers Get Bargain Power Status

Approximately 70 Marin County probation workers and group counselors are the second county employees group to have a union as their bargaining agent.

Don R. Deane, president of the probation workers unit of Social Workers Union Local No. 535, AFL-CIO Building Service Employees International Union, said slightly more than 90 per cent of those who voted in last Wednesday's election chose the union as their bargaining agent.

He said 55 per cent of those who were eligible voted.

The social workers chapter of the same union local was certified this spring by the Marin County Personnel Commission as the bargaining agent for employees in the Marin County Department of Public Social Service.

The certification was based on a computation indicating the majority of social workers had signed a declaration that the union was their representative and authorizing deduction of union dues from their payroll checks.

Deane, a county probation officer, maintained the probation department employees "will for the first time be in a position to bargain in good faith."

He said, "In the past, they have not even had a say. The Marin County Employees Association represents so many persons it couldn't present the case for specific classifications."

Deane said union representatives have met twice with County Administration Allan Bruce and hope to meet with him again before he submits budget and salary recommendations to county supervisors.

Planners Will Discuss Policies

Sausalito's new planning commission will discuss the statement of policies and objectives for the proposed central waterfront plan when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the city council chamber.

The statement was passed by the previous nine-member commission which was dissolved last month. The new council of five members was appointed May 14.

The commission also will hear recommendations from a nominating committee for officers on the new body.

Three-R School Graduation Friday

Graduation ceremonies for 25 eighth grade class students of the Three-R School of San Rafael will be held at 11 a.m. Friday at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Marin County Supt. of Schools Dr. Virgil S. Hollis will speak at the ceremonies, which will be followed by a luncheon for members of the class and their parents and teachers.

American Men Are Dull Says Hairdresser Home From Tour

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Sassoon is famous for his geometrical haircuts, first introduced to American women five years ago.

He bemoans that American men are saddled to three-button suits and the worst haircuts in the world as their women grow more youthful and more fashion conscious.

Sassoon's ambition is to open a "salon for gents" where he would see that their hair is cut well and that they get good advice about clothes. They would feel smarter, look younger and generally feel better expressing their own personalities, he says.

MANY IMPORTANT men tiptoe to Sassoon's New York salon in the evening after the ladies' have gone home. They get haircuts to set them apart from other men they meet on Madison Avenue who have a boring sameness about them.

Sassoon is far more youthful looking than his 40 years. He attributes it to his haircut — close and "chunky" all over and to his suits which he designs with an English tailor.

"YOU DON'T NEED a Chinese collar to be different," he advises men. The suit he was wearing had a comfortable form-fitting jacket with floppy half-lapels.

"Men dress better in California than in New York," he points out. "There's an elegant way of dressing in casual fashion instead of climbing into a uniform like the three-button suit."

He doesn't know how he could possibly begin the man's grooming operation right now, even though he is thinking seriously about it, abetted by husbands of his clients. His interest right now is centered on opening new women's salons in California.

He has just returned from a successful tour of the United States. In Tulsa, 1300 Oklahoma hairdressers came to see his show that illustrated five years of hair fashions as an evolution from that first, sensational short geometrical haircut that took the fashion world by surprise.

But it isn't his only claim to fame. At his salon in New York, young slim male hairdressers, mainly English, scoot about in lively fashion, cutting and setting the shortest to longest locks on women of various ages, but always the blunt cut rather than the razor cut which he says ruins hair.

Straight hair dried with a hand drier and molded into shape with a brush emerges glossy and tamed to swish hither and yon, to be caught by the wind, to be tousled or riffled but always to spring back to its shape that fans out at the flip of a head.

MEN WOULD get the same blunt cut that he gives women — no patchwork effects that razoring creates, he says.

A MAN'S HAIRCUT — Vidal Sassoon wears the kind of cut he'd like to give American men: short all over but without any razor cutting or shaving.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Stay Friends And Join A Summer Baseball Or Swimming Society

DEAR HELEN:

My friend and I both like the same girl. If she goes with me, my friend will be mad at me. If she goes with him, I will be mad at him. We're all in junior high.

What to do? — WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED:

Why don't you both join the local "young men's summer baseball and swimming society" and put dating off until later? It's much cheaper, believe me, and besides, this way you can all three remain friends.

By fall, another girl will enter the picture. You'll see. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Fun's fun, but this is getting ridiculous. Four times in the past month my house has been T-P'ed. I'm tired of pulling strungout streamers from trees, the roof, my car; raking it up from the lawn, and even out of the swimming pool. When it rains during the night, the clean-up job is murder.

My Dad came home last evening and really blew his top. The front yard looked like a snow storm, with bathroom tissue over every inch. The gang outdid themselves this time.

Sure, I know it's a compliment, getting T-P'ed. In our town, you're not really with it, unless your house has been hit. Some of the kids look at me in awe. "Migosh, T-P'ed four times. How popular can you get?" they sigh.

Too popular! Without making like a wet blanket, how do I throw cold water on this sport? — TIRED OF WHITE LAWNS

DEAR TIRED:

You might voice it around that your dad is on the warpath, and he just may throw cold water, via the garden hose.

Better yet, why don't all you kids figure out a new way to show your affection? The T.P. bit is getting pretty old hat. Isn't it about due to go down the drain? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Is it good etiquette to kiss a television star in public?

We went to see Leonard Nimoy at a playhouse, and afterwards my frineds and I went upstaris for his atuograph. When it came my turn, I just couldn't resist kissing "Mr. Spock." He's so cute.

Was that nutty? — HAPPY THOUGH UNSURE

DEAR HTU:

Sure, but nutty people are the best kind, and I'll bet Mr. Nimoy agrees, though Mr. Spock would call me illogical— H.

DEAR HELEN:

I read this somewhere, and I think it's a good question for your column:

"How come we kill people who kill people to show people it isn't right to kill people?" — ANOTHER QUESTIONER

DEAR QUESTIONER:

Because violence is our heritage, and "an eye for an eye" our creed.

And because people no longer fear that which they kill. Which answers the question, but it doesn't solve the problem, does it? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

I am a boy of 16, and I would like to get an apartment this summer, but my folks say I am too young. I can take care of myself, and I would pay my way with the money I make. If I live at home, I will have to pay board anyway. Who's right? — J.W.

DEAR J:

I doubt you'd find an apartment open to a 16-year-old boy, even though he's industrious enough to afford it. Why not save your money a couple of years, and you could have enough socked away to get you through the first year of college? — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in The Independent-Journal.

Soda Aids Drain

To prevent kitchen plumbing from clogging, once a week pour three to four tablespoons of washing soda down the drain and run the hot water until the granules dissolve. A dash of washing soda added to dish-washing water daily also acts as a tonic for sluggish plumbing and leaves dishes sparkling.

Humor For Sun

Sun buffs are in for some fashion fun this summer if they wear new sports togs, the National Cotton Council says. There's a touch of humor in the way sun dresses are cut to show bare midriffs sometimes at the front, back or at the sides. Sturdy cottons like ducks and poplins interpret these designs in geometrically printed red, black and white plaid and bright green and white stripes.

Service League's "Happening In Mexico" To Be Held In Belvedere

A "Happening in Mexico" will be the theme of the seventh annual Family Service League cocktail party for the members, their husbands, and Family Service Agency board members. Authentic Mexican stoneware, scarves, travel posters and large arrangements of Mexican paper flowers will decorate the home of Miss Janet Sawyer, 5 Laurel Avenue, Belvedere, the scene of the happening, Friday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Co-chairmen of the event are Mesdames John Bricker of Mill Valley and Frederick Bradley of San Rafael, assisted by decorations chairman, Mrs. J. F. Langton of Mill Valley.

The Family Service League helps support the Family Service Agency of Marin County, a counseling service for families with marital and family problems.

AN HONORARY Life Membership award was presented to Mr. John Castle by the San Rafael High School P-TA for his contributions to the welfare of youth. He and his wife Kay have lived in Marin County for 19 years, and are the parents of Terry, a junior at the high school, Helen, a freshman, and Mark, a fifth grader at Laurel Dell.

Mr. Castle is active in Cub Scouts, and for many years has been a driver for Scouts and church groups. He is treasurer for the First Presbyterian Sunday School, and for the past two years has served as treasurer for the high school P-TA. Mrs. Bryce Anderson made the presentation.

A CREATIVE PROGRAM will be presented by students at St. Stephens Parish Day School, assisted by the Parents Club at Whitaker Hall, Belvedere at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The program marks the end of the fifth year of the school, which was the first non-graded school in Marin county, serving 35 children in a primary program.

Mrs. Peter Arnold, Parent's Club president, is hostess; Mrs. James Grisham, accompanist for the presentation.

The eight students who have completed the school's primary requirements and are ready to enter the fourth grade at private or public schools were announced by the Rev. Lewellyn A. White, rector of St. Stephens Episcopal Church. They are Vicky Grisham, Cathy Jonstone, Peter Allen, Marian McAfee, Kenneth Rogers, David Field, Holly Kim and Joel Ehrlich.

MRS. ALFRED Rufty, membership chairman of the Novato Newcomers Club is planning a coffee in the home of Mrs. Norman Bristowe, 28 Brown Drive at 10 A.M. Thursday.

Any Novato women interested in coming to the coffee are asked to call Mrs. Rufty. Women who have lived in Novato two years or less are eligible for membership.

CLIPPED WINGS (former United Air Lines stewardesses) installation luncheon will be held Saturday at the Windjammer Restaurant in Tiburon at 1 p.m. following a social hour.

The new president, Mrs. Wayne White of San Rafael, will be assisted in the coming year by the following officers: Mesdames John Mueller of Novato, vice-president; John Conway of Ignacio, secretary; John P. Brigham Jr. of Terra Linda, treasurer. The co-editors of the "Mainliner Marin" newsletter are Mesdames Robert Galloway of Corte Madera and Michael deMeurisse of Belvedere. The delegate for national convention in 1969 will be Mrs. Richard K. Slayton of Greenbrae.

Plans are underway for new ways to assist Kindergarten Mentally Retarded in Santa Venetia, both with funds and volunteer time spent at the school. Additional funds are donated on a national level to the National Association for Retarded Children for a research grant.

The 1968 national convention for Clipped Wings is being held in Washington, D.C. on July 17 and Mrs. Donald Blinco of Sausalito, retiring president, with Mrs. Max Moberly of Santa Rosa, delegate, will be representing the Marin Chapter.

CLASSES IN mother and baby care, sponsored by the Marin Chapter of the American Red Cross, began this week at chapter headquarters, 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

The three week courses will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays during June and July. The classes cover baby growth and development, nutrition in pregnancy, labor pattern, practical skills in baby care and care of the child during the first year.

PLANS ARE under way for an unusual summer modern dance camp to be offered by the Mill Valley Pacific Dance Guild the week of July 8 through 12 from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The camp will be open to youngsters of all ages from first graders on. Daily sessions will offer a balance of technique instruction together with opportunities for creative work.

Instructor Dick Ford is well known throughout the Bay Area as a dancer, choreographer and teacher. He will be recognized by elementary school age children who have seen his current educational Television series "Heads Up."

Ford has been characterized as a modern Pied Piper through the response he obtains from children as he leads them in dance activities.

Further information regarding the camp may be secured by calling the Pacific Dance Guild office or coordinator Mrs. Gary Faulk of Mill Valley.

The guild will continue to conduct a regular five-week session of twice a week classes in ballet and pre-school creative dance.

MRS. GOLDBERG SAYS

Peace Is Basis Of Security

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—"There is no security for any of us anywhere, if there is not peace in the world."

The words are those of a woman whose husband for the past three years has been the chief spokesman for the United States in the world forum of the United Nations.

Now, as Arthur J. Goldberg, retires as U.S. Ambassador to the UN, his pretty, petite wife looks forward to private life for the first time in eight years, but not to retirement from the Goldbergs' roles in working for peace.

When Ambassador Goldberg sumitted his resignation to President Johnson, it was with the statement that he felt he now could do more as a private citizens to end international frictions.

WHEN ARTHUR J. Goldberg retires as U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations, his wife looks forward to private life for the first time in eight years, but not to retirement from the Goldbergs' roles in working toward peace. (UPI Telephoto)

HIS WIFE, in one of her several roles as a volunteer, will continue on the board of the United Nations Association of the U.S.A. (UNA-USA), a private and non-partisan organization to promote understanding of the UN's work.

Her comment that there is no security without peace came as she looked back on her husband's decision in moving from the lifetime post as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court.

Goldberg, long-time counsel for labor organizations, first had been named Secretary of Labor by the late President Kennedy. Kennedy then named him to the Supreme Court in 1962. And when Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson died in July, 1965, Goldberg left the court for the UN ambassadorship.

I talked with Mrs. Goldberg at the U.S. embassy residence in the Waldorf Towers, as she planned removal of the last personal belongings of her family. The hotel provides the furnishings for the suite, she said.

"I think everything belongs to them but the piano," she said. "The paintings you see are on loan from the Museum of Modern Art."

MRS. GOLDBERG had just finished a meeting with three high school student winners in the UNA-USA annual scholarship essay contest on all phases of UN operation.

First, second and third place finalists were Mary Ellen McCarthy, a senior at the Star of the Sea Academy, San Francisco; Sarah Alice Ruley, a senior at Oak Ridge High School, Oak Ridge, Tenn., and David Friedman, a senior at Yeshiva and Mesivta of Eastern Parkway High School, New York.

"It is terribly important that young people know that the UN is not just a debating forum," said Mrs. Goldberg. "The fact that so many students entered indicates the spirituality of our youth. No, I don't think our kids are going to the dogs".

Just what career course her husband now will follow she did not know. "We don't even know yet where we'll live." The Goldbergs do own a farm, however, near Warrenton, Va.

Mrs. Goldberg is sure of some of her future activities—"I have carried a volunteer load all my life." She will continue with UNA-USA, has signed for a lecture series, with topics including "The UN — Is There an Alternative?," has been active with the Friends of Juvenile Courts, served on the President's Committee on the handicapped, developed a handbook on community services for wives of UN personnel, and helped to steer a volunteer schools program nationally.

"Certainly you have to juggle your time," said the ambassador's wife. "But having a chauffeured car certainly helps."

Mrs. Goldberg is the former Dorothy Kourgans of Chicago. She and the ambassador were married in 1931. They have two children, Barbara, now Mrs. David Cramer of Chicago, and Robert, a Washington lawyer, and two infant grandchildren.

MRS. GOLDBERG is an established artist, used to have her own gallery, but quit painting when her husband went into public life because "the paintings were selling too well. I wanted them to stand on merit, not on who painted them."

MR. AND MRS. John Klapperich were married at St. Anselm's Church. The bride is the former Robyn McKendry, daughter of the R. E. McKendrys of Ross. John's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Klapperich of San Rafael. (Faulkner photo)

Floating Wires

"Floating" wires are enclosed in separate fabric sleeves attached inside on each side of the cup of new bras. The manufacturer says the wire floats free from the lower band, fits comfortably under the bust and gives maximum support. Several lingerie firms already are using the new technique.

Civic Center Multi-Story Parking Seen

By WAT TAKESHITA

Within the next six years, developments at the Civic Center site will have reached the point of need of a multi-story parking structure, according to the county administrator.

Asst. Administrator John F. Barrows today issued a proposed $12 million capital improvements program through 1973-74, including all land acquisitions, new construction and major remodeling projects.

Barrows said the program can be financed on a pay-as-you-go basis with a tax rate of 30 cents per $100 assessed valuation, about the same rate allotted for capital improvement today.

The Hall of Justice will be completed by the end of this year. The final $400,000 on the $9 million structure will be paid off in 1968-69. Landscaping around the Hall of Justice is scheduled for 1969-70 at a total cost of $259,000.

Construction of the veteran's memorial auditorium, now underway, should be completed in 1969 at a total cost of $2,532,248.

The fairgrounds adjoining the auditorium will be improved at a cost of $203,300, and should be usable for the 1970 fair.

During 1968-69, land will be acquired and a parking area for 200 cars will be built to the north of the Civic Center post office at a cost of $252,300.

A new parking structure for 500 cars will be needed by 1971. Cost is estimated at $1,837,000. Barrows said he does not know yet if this means double-decking existing parking areas or whether a separate structure will be built.

A general services building to store and maintain county equipment is projected by 1971. The building, costing $266,000, will be located north of the present buildings, near the highway.

The new Hall of Justice will remain unfinished on the west side of the top floor. Interior finishing of this floor, at a cost of $609,200, is expected by 1973.

A box culvert exists along the north boundary of the Civic Center to cover a portion of Gallinas Creek. This culvert will be extended for an additional 2,000 feet so that the creekbed can be used for a roadway access to the fairgrounds parking area. This project, costing $471,000, will be financed in 1972-73.

A road extending from Civic Center Drive northeastward over the existing channel bed will be built to provide access to the lagoon parking area. This is scheduled for construction in 1973-74 at a cost of $125,000, after completion of the box culvert mentioned above.

The lagoon parking area at the northeast corner of the fairgrounds site will cost $251,400 and will be financed in 1973-74.

The administrator proposes acquisition of more land between the north boundary of the fairgrounds and the Northwestern Pacific right-of-way in 1973-74.

Outside the Civic Center unit, the major capital improvement is proposed at Juvenile Hall. The administrator and the probation department, however, do not agree on the construction plans. The probation department urges that a new dormitory building for about 40 children be built and that the leased relocatable dormitory be kept for the minimum three-year lease period ending in 1969-70.

The administrator recommends the continued leasing and ultimate purchase of the relocatable dormitory and the construction of a new replacement dormitory to house 20 children.

The administrator also recommends reflooring and repainting of the junior boys' and girls' wings and additional parking for about 15 cars.

Novato School Budget May Rise $1.3 Million

The 1968-69 preliminary budget of $8,450,927 was presented to the Novato Unified School District Board of Trustees last night. No action was taken on the budget, up $1,304,062 from this year's.

The budget calls for a general tax rate of $3.43 per $100 assessed valuation, the same as the current fiscal year. The estimated tax rate does not include override taxes which have yet to be set, according to Edward Dolan, district information officer. The 1967-68 tax rate of $5.66 includes $2.23 in override taxes.

Teacher salaries for the coming year have been estimated at $4,609,990, an increase of $763,394, Dolan said. The district expects to raise $3,094,997 of the total budget from local property taxes, $868,531 more than this year. The remaining portion of the budget will be made up of federal and state funds, he said.

The trustees will review the budget again at their next meeting at 8 p.m., June 17.

Trustees also agreed to contribute $10 per month to the dental and health insurance program of each district employee. The contribution is estimated to cost up to $85,000 for the 1968-69 fiscal year, Dolan said.

The contribution was first requested by the Novato Teachers Association on May 6. The district now does not contribute to dental and health insurance programs of any employees.

A scheduled salary request by the Novato Teachers Association was postponed to the June 17 meeting.

Youth Is Cited For Taking Beer

A 17-year-old San Rafael boy was taken to Juvenile Hall yesterday after being cited for a burglary in which 63 cases of beer were taken from the Lucky Lager warehouse, 44 De Luca Place, San Rafael.

The arrest was made after the boy went to police headquarters yesterday and denied he was involved in the burglary, because he said, he had heard police were investigating the possibility he was involved.

Police said the warehouse was burglarized sometime between 6 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. Monday by a thief who pried open a rear door.

Burglars Scared Off At Marin City Office

Deputies got an anonymous telephone call at 6:23 a.m. that a burglary was in progress at the office. Arriving two minutes later, they found no one there but a screen removed and window broken. Manager Robert Council said nothing appeared to be missing.

COURT RULING STUDIED

Quentin Death Row Impact Debated

The sentences of most of the 77 men on San Quentin's Death Row will be set aside as a result of yesterday's U.S. Supreme Court decision that it is unconstitutional to exclude opponents of the death penalty from juries.

That was the prediction made today by Ernest Besig, executive director of the American Civil Liberties Union in Northern California.

The barring of prospective jurors opposed to capital punishment from death penalty cases was one of the grounds cited by the ACLU and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored people in their challenge of three death penalty cases in California. Two of the cases are before the California Supreme Court and one is with the U.S. District Court in San Francisco.

The U.S. Supreme Court's decision yesterday was in the case of William C. Witherspoon, 42, who was sentenced to death in Illinois for the fatal shooting of a Chicago policeman, Mitchell Stone, in 1959.

"It undoubtedly means that all of the 77 San Quentin death sentences, except four who pleaded guilty and were sentenced by judges, will be set aside," said Besig. "It is a tremendously important decision, a landmark case, which will speed the process of the states doing away with the death penalty."

On Death Row at San Quentin, the decision was received with "cautious optimism," said Associate Warden James W. L. Park.

"There was very little reaction on the row," said Park. "What questions they had concerned with what it would mean to them specifically.

"Most of the men on the row feel that unless they can see a piece of paper setting a new trial for them, it is all pretty abstract. They are believers in a bird in the hand being worth two in the bush."

In Marin County, District Attorney Bruce B. Bales said he did not believe the Supreme Court's decision would have any effect on a case he is currently prosecuting, the trial of Kenneth A. Preston, 20, for the murder of Curtis and Shirley Ackley last Jan. 12 in their Santa Venetia house trailer.

Bales said that prospective jurors in the Preston trial were challenged for cause only if they said they would never vote to sentence a person to death. Bales said his reading of newspaper accounts of the Supreme Court's decision indicated to him that the procedure is not unconstitutional.

Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson, trial judge in the case, said he wants to see a transcript of the Supreme Court's decision. However, he said, newspaper accounts seemed to indicate that challenge-dismissal of prospective jurors who oppose the death penalty is within constitutional bounds.

The Supreme Court's decision held that it is "stacking the deck" against a capital case defendant to automatically exclude from juries persons who are opposed to the death penalty. California statute does not automatically exclude such persons, but in practice, they are usually challenged and dismissed by the prosecuting attorneys, who ask the jury panelists as a general practice, whether or not they are opposed to the death penalty.

A legal question would be whether or not the dismissal for cause of such prospective jurors amounts to an automatic exclusion.

The ACLU's man, Besig, said he believed that it does, and that jurors were excluded in that manner from the jury trials of 74 of the 77 men currently on San Quentin's Death Row.

However, California's chief assistant attorney general, Arlo Smith, said jurors opposed to the death penalty are not automatically excluded from serving on capital case juries in California, because there is no state statute excluding them.

In any event, the Supreme Court's decision was apparently not a blanket refutation of all death sentences in the United States for that reason. In its 5-4 ruling, the Supreme Court stated that the decision was not retroactive and that it did not apply to death penalty cases "per se", but was specifically concerned with the case in Illinois.

The ACLU's Besig said it could simply mean that the San Quentin death sentences would go, one by one, to the California Supreme Court.

One complication in California, for which no one seemed to have an answer yesterday, is the state's dual trial procedure in capital cases. The jury first decides a defendant's guilt or innocence, and reaches a decision on what his penalty shall be in a subsequent penalty trial.

Two Pilots Not Injured In Mishaps

Two pilots flying alone escaped injury in separate mishaps yesterday at Marin County Airport in Novato.

Tom Coates of Novato was landing about 4 p.m. when his Swift single-engine aircraft rolled over on its nose, damaging the propeller and nose.

Two hours earlier, a Piper Cherokee 140 flown by an unidentified student pilot rolled over after going beyond the end of the runway, causing the nose wheel to be sheared off.

Francis E. Torr, airport manager, said the mishaps were so minor he classified them as incidents, not accidents.

He said Coates lost control of his craft in landing and hit the brakes, causing the craft to roll over.

The mishap involving the unidentified pilot occurred because he landed with the wind, rather than against it, causing his craft to continue beyond the end of the runway, Torr said.

Torr said he did not know the name of the student pilot. Richard T. Duste, owner of Marin Aviation, Inc., owner of the plane the student was flying, would not disclose the student's name.

A different account of the mishap involving the unidentified student pilot was given by Robert B. Rose, assistant manager of Tolleson Flying Service.

He said the student pilot was caught in a crosswind. He described the flyer as "a student pilot who had no business being out under those conditions." He said the crosswind at the airport is "very hazardous even to an experienced pilot."

Saul Sokolsky of Riverside, his wife and four children escaped injury last Thursday when their single-engine plane flipped over in a crosswind.

700 ASK TAM TO OPERATE SCHOOL BUS

A petition bearing about 700 signatures was presented to the Tamalpais High School District board last night asking that the district take over operation of a bus from Marin City to Tamalpais High School.

The bus, which provides free transportation for students, started operating in March under a $10,000 grant from the San Francisco Foundation. Petitioners did not feel that this grant would be available next year.

The signatures on the petition were gathered by Christ Episcopal Church in Sausalito.

Girl, 14, Dies Of Injuries At School

A 14-year-old San Anselmo girl has died of head injuries suffered when she collided with another student at Red Hill School, struck a door and tumbled to a cement sidewalk.

The girl, Deborah Probert of 24 Grove Lane, died Friday in a San Francisco hospital, three days after the accident.

Stephen L. Parodi, San Anselmo School District superintendent, said the mishap was not reported to police.

Parodi said the girl, an eighth grade student, was running from one class to another when she crashed into a male student, also reportedly running, in a doorway. Deborah struck her forehead on the door and fell, hitting the back of her head on the sidewalk, Parodi reported.

The superintendent said Donald Shaw, Red Hill principal, telephoned Deborah's parents, who asked that an ambulance take the girl to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Rafael. Deborah was later transferred to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco, where she died.

Parodi said the accident was not reported to police because no deliberate act of harm was involved.

Deborah's father, B. K. Probert, is a maintenance foreman at Bethlehem Steel in Richmond.

The girl was born in Fontana, San Bernardino County, and moved to San Anselmo with her parents a year and a half ago.

Hub Library Budget

Members of the San Anselmo Library Board last night discussed the budget request which they will present to the San Anselmo City Council at 7:45 p.m. Thursday. The board will ask for $53,842 next year as compared to $51,822 this year.

Parents, Police Chief Voice Fear Of Redwood High 'Open Campus'

An "open campus" policy at Redwood High School might lead to such problems as marijuana, illicit sex, speeding cars and littering according to fears expressed by parents and Larkspur officials last night.

In a discussion of policy proposed for next year at a meeting of the Tamalpais High School District board, Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark said that opening the campus would give police great problems with speeding and keeping non-students off the campus.

He said that police are now able to spot runaways and other non-students because Redwood students are required to stay on campus.

Larkspur Vice Mayor Neil R. Brixon told the board that he wanted a joint meeting of the Larkspur City Council and the Tamalpais District trustees discuss the matter.

The board agreed to such a meeting, but a time was not set.

Redwood Principal Donald Kreps, who had recommended the policy, said that students should be treated with more leniency and given more responsibility.

Kreps will meet with the Larkspur council at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

Parents attending the meeting asked Kreps why they had not been consulted about the change in policy and many expressed concern over the change.

In other discussion of student matters, the board appointed a committee to study student discipline. This action arose from protests of parents of Sir Francis Drake students who objected to disciplinary measures taken with youngsters who cut school to attend an anti-draft rally (See another story page 12.)

Named to head the interim committee for discipline policies was Mrs. John Binckley. Other members are Mrs. John McGee, Ernest Braun, Dr. George Stone and Rev. Gordon Foster. The board designated Gloria W. Melbostad as board representative.

Mrs. Binckley said in a letter to the board that the committee hopes to have recommendations ready for a July meeting.

Tam Trustees To Ask Help On School's Architect Pact

The Tamalpais High School District board struggled with finances again last night and decided to turn over to the county counsel's office its architectural contract for the new San Geronimo high school for interpretation.

The board also received a protest from 35 citizens, including two Valley councilmen, George E. Wickham and Robert H. Andresen, over the manner in which the salary of Oliver R. Bonner, district director of maintenance and operations, was raised.

The letter accused the board of acting extravagantly in raising Bonner's salary $4,188 per year.

Board members were also informed last night that the League of Women Voters of Southern Marin is undertaking a study of the Tamalpais board.

Although the auditing firm of Peat, Marwick and Mitchell doubted that the county counsel is the proper place to get advice on the state of the district's contract with architects Gromme and Priestley, the board decided to seek such information.

The auditors have been reviewing the status of the contract which was made for a school of 1,500 students and then changed to 750 and later 800 students. Confusion has arisen over how much the district should pay the architects, whose fees are based on a percentage of the building costs.

The board also set a workship on its proposed $8.5 million budget for 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the district office.

The Tamalpais High School Board Also:

GRANT — Approved a $500 grant to Jack Hayes, dean of student activities at Sir Francis Drake High School, for research

COUNTY COMMITTEE — Postponed action on a recommendation from the San Anselmo School District on the method of electing members to the Marin County Committee on School District Organization.

SUMMER SCHOOL — Approved courses and hired teachers for summer sessions at the three high schools in the district.

EXTRA SERVICE — Approved Approved amounts totaling $10,000 for each school for pay to teachers performing extra services.

Pleads Innocent To Carrying Gun

Daniel Lee Temple, 21, of 18 Francis Street, San Rafael, yesterday pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court to having a gun in his possession as a convicted felon.

Preliminary hearing was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. July 11. Temple was arrested May 20 by San Rafael police after residents of an apartment house at 515 D Street complained he was noisy and possessed a pistol.

Lack Of Quorum

Last Trolley Ride Saddens Its Driver

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Arthur Reeve was 25 when he took brand new trolley bus number 59 out for its first trip in Durban. Thirty years and a half a million miles later he took it out for its last run, a sentimental journey down to the beach front and back to town.

The bus is to be towed 400 miles to Johannesburg where it will stand in the St. James Hall Museum of Transport. "I shall miss the old girl. I don't mind admitting it — I've got a lump in my throat," said Reeve as he climbed down from the cab for the last time.

DON'T GRAB

The grabber wins the first trump, bangs down the ace of clubs and ruffs a club in three seconds flat. Eventually he must give up a heart and a club. Down one.

The barve man sees that the grabber's plan will cost him the queen of clubs and a heart trick. He wins the first trick in dummy with the nine of spades and leads dummy's club to try a finesse with the queen.

This bold move deserves a better fate, but it costs a trick. West wins with the king of clubs and returns another trump. Now South cannot ruff any clubs at all. He loses two clubs and a heart. Down two.

GENERAL'S PLAN

The general is a brave man, but he sees no reason to settle for an even break (like the club finesse) when he can be a 4 to 1 favorite. After winning the first trump trick, declarer takes the ace of diamonds and ruffs a diamond. When both opponents follow suit, the contract is unbeatable.

Our strategic friend cashes the ace of clubs, ruffs a club in dummy and ruffs another diamond, setting up the rest of dummy's suit. Now he draws the rest of the trumps and gets to dummy with the ace of hearts to discard two hearts and a club on the established diamonds.

HOLD ACE

South loses nothing by testing the diamonds first. If the diamonds break badly, declarer can get to dummy with the ace of hearts to try the club finesse.

Answer: Bid 3-no trump.

The hand is just barely worth a positive response. A response of only 2-no trump would show a very weak hand.

ALMANAC

The moon is between its first quarter and full stage. The morning stars are Saturn and Venus. The evening stars are Mercury and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1942 the battle of Midway began and the Japanese fleet suffered its first decisive defeat of World War II from the United States.

In 1967 the war between Israel and Egypt began.

THE INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL

FREEDOM of INFORMATION

☆ FIRST AWARD ☆

1968 National Better Newspaper Contest

Sponsored by the National Newspaper Association

"The Independent-Journal fought

Specifically, in the words of the judges: "The Independent-Journal shows a keen sense of what freedom of information is all about. The entry consisted of 45 separate articles and editorials. The extremely well-written articles cited the abuse by public officials of the people's right to know. There were follow-up articles, editorials, and editorial cartoons. The judges were impressed by the paper's systematic policy of pursuing the subject."

The award is something more than another plaque on the wall. While the engraved bronze looks very formal, what it is really saying is this: That your home newspaper did not sit back when a vital principle was at stake. Instead, through the combined efforts of reporters, editors and photographers, it met the fundamental obligation of a newspaper to its community: to keep it informed on matters of public concern. And in doing so, helped preserve the rights of a free and open society.

BACKGROUND ON THE EVENTS WHICH LED TO THE AWARD

When the Mill Valley School District Board Planned a closed session to consider appointments to committees, a reporter from the Independent-Journal informed them they were violating a state law and committing a misdemeanor.

The Independent-Journal covered the controversy in five news stories. The end result was that the board said there would be no more closed meetings to consider individuals for elections or appointments.

"The moment you hear a public official mumble something about a 'personal matter', watch out! He's more likely than not laying down a smoke screen to pave the way for a secret meeting behind locked doors to devise new ways to spend the public's money . . ."

Belgrade Under Rally Ban; Students Angry

BELGRADE (UPI)--Yugoslavia's Communist regime responded today to two days of bloody clashes between students and police by banning all public rallies and demonstrations in Belgrade. Students warned they would defy the ban.

Student leaders called a mass rally in a downtown Belgrade square for later today. They said it would be held unless some of their specific demands are met immediately.

Police spokesmen accused "certain irresponsible elements" among thousands of student demonstrators for social reforms of causing the violence that erupted Sunday night and yesterday. They said they had found and defused an explosive charge planted overnight in the Belgrade office of the Putnik travel agency, Yugoslavia's largest.

The Serbian state interior ministry said the demonstration ban was necessary to "protect public order, peace and security."

University students, however, appeared to have won concessions in their fight for more say in running their school and for better living conditions.

About 500 students still occupied the university administration building. Police said 38 persons had been injured Sunday night in fighting but students said the authorities were covering up "police brutality" and that 100 students had been injured.

Spock Defendant Cites Fear Of Third World War

BOSTON (UPI)—A defendant in the antidraft conspiracy trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four others testified today he was against the Vietnam War because President Johnson "perpetrated a great fraud on the American people."

Michell Goodman, 44, of Temple, Maine, under examination by his attorney, Edward G. Barshak, said he became "politically active" after the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin Resolution because of "a great fear of a third world war."

Goodman, an author and travel writer, was on the stand for the second straight day in U.S. District Court. He told the 12-man jury "Mr. Johnson had no mandate from the people to escalate the war and he perpetrated a great fraud on the American people because of the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution."

On trial with the noted baby doctor and Goodman are Michael Ferber, 23, of Buffalo, N.Y., a Harvard graduate student; the Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43, chaplain at Yale University; and Marcus Raskin, 33, codirector of the Institute for policy Studies in Washington, D. C.

"I felt I had to do everything I could before this war destroyed the American people and the people of Vietnam," Goodman told the crowded 12th floor courtroom.

Asked by the slender defense counsel about his belief concerning the legality of the war, he replied, "My belief was that if this war was to continue, there must be a declaration of war from the United States Congress."

Goodman, wearing a tweed sport jacket over a dark yellow shirt, sat crosslegged on the stand and responded loudly to Barshak's questions. He was the third of the five defendants to testify as the trial entered its 11th day.

Arnheiter Seeks Order Of Navy Probe

Lt. Cmdr. Marcus A. Arnheiter of San Rafael asked a U.S. District Court judge yesterday to force the Navy to open a formal board of inquiry into the circumstances surrounding his removal from command of a destroyer escort.

The judge, William T. Sweigert of San Francisco, said he would rule on Arnheiter's request within two weeks.

Arnheiter was stripped of his command of the USS Vance in 1966, and his lawyer, Marvin Lewis, argued in court yesterday that the Military Justice Act under which it was done is unconstitutional.

The Navy asked Sweigert to dismiss Arnheiter's case. Asst. U.S. Atty. Jerry Cimmett argued that civil courts have no jurisdiction in military matters involving change of command.

Arnheiter, 42, had been the target of complaints by some officers aboard the Vance and he was relieved of duty in Vietnam waters on a finding of "gross lack of judgment and inability to command and lead people."

Last month, Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., conducted a one-man congressional hearing into the Arnheiter controversy and called for the resignation of Ignatius.

Cimmet told Judge Sweigert yesterday that Arnheiter was removed from command for cause after an "informal single-officer investigation" which is permissible under the Navy Bureau personnel manual.

He also contended the case was beyond jurisdiction of the court which, he argued, could not challenge a "discretionary act by the Secretary of the Navy."

Lewis declared civil courts have jurisdiction over Navy legal cases "when the Navy fails to follow its own due process."

He said it was improper for Arnheiter to have been removed from command through administrative process and that the Military Justice Act of 1950 was invalid because it deprived him of a court martial.

Lewis said Arnheiter took command of the Vance in December, 1965, and sought to shape up a "loosely-run, cockroach infested" ship during the three months before he was ousted.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

Propranolol HCI (Inderal) is a new product that shows promise in the treatment of irregularities of the heartbeat, angina pectoris, and hypertension. The drug will have plenty of competition because there are many older and better known remedies for these conditions. It is welcome, however, because Inderal has a different mode of action from the others.

The product is a blocking agent which means that Inderal suppresses undesirable stimulation of the sympathetic nervous system. Its action is likened to the administration of a local anesthetic to reduce irritability and activity of the heart. In this way the drug acts to abolish, control, or prevent irregularities of the beat.

BUT ANY DRUG that blocks sympathetic (adrenergic) nervous stimulation may aggravate allergic tendencies, especially bronchial asthma, hay fever, and other nasal allergies. Nausea, insommia, and diarrhea occur occasionally, but are not bothersome side effects. Because it also lowers blood pressure, Inderal is not recommended for persons with hypotension or dropsy.

Propranolol is compatible with nitroglycerin, a drug used to prevent or relieve angina. It helps by lessening the oxygen requirements of the heart muscle. This effect fits into the picture because during exertion or excitement the coronary arteries are too narrowed to bring enough oxygen to the organ.

IN A STUDY of 70 victims of angina, 55 were able to walk further before chest pain developed. In another group of 21, Ideral lowered the blood pressure in 18 with mild to moderate hypertension. It is well to remember that drugs other than propranolol are capable of doing the same.

OOZING NAVEL

B. R. writes: How serious is a navel infection? The puslike matter coming from this area has a slight odor. I have been unable to control it even though I am extremely careful regarding cleanliness.

REPLY

A discharge of the navel usually is due to an infection in this area. It also can be caused by a congenital defect such as fistula, sinus, or cyst. If good hygiene has not helped, you ought to see the physician. Meanwhile, send stamped, self-addressed envelope for our leaflet on oozing navel.

BLUSHES OFTEN

A reader writes: I am a 16-year-old boy who is a little overweight. My real problem, however, is my constant blushing. Why do I do this?

REPLY

You are not only a little overweight, but a bit self-conscious. Five years from now, after you will have become more sophisticated, you will not be bothered by certain situations that embarrass you today.

TELEVISION FATIGUE

I. S. writes: I sit about 12 feet from my 21-inch television. Do you think rays from it could be making me feel tired and depressed?

REPLY

Not unless you are staying up watching the late, late show. This has nothing to do with the irradiation effects. Look elsewhere for the cause of your fatigue.

NOSEBLEED IN CHILDREN

REPLY

Yes, but injury and infection are more common causes for nosebleed in youngsters.

Today's Health Hint—

Mill Valley Council Raps Transit District Taxation

The Mill Valley City Council last night endorsed the Marin Transit District's 1969 work program, but voted that the $80,000 program should be financed from reserves and the district should levy no property tax for 1968-69.

The council recommended the district stop building up its reserve fund, as it has done for the past few years with its 5-cent tax levy. The district has accumulated approximately $280,000 a year, toward eventual costs of operating a transit system.

"I think it is foolhardy to assume . . . we'll go into the transit business" with the money accumulated, Councilman Robert H. Andresen said. Starting a transit system would require "big money," and a bond issue would be needed despite the accumulated funds, he said.

Andresen was joined by Councilmen Jerome C. Hauke and George Wickham in the 3-2 vote against a district tax levy.

Mayor Dean N. Meyer and Councilman Rodric L. Robinson opposed the motion. Robinson said the county will "stay with Greyhound or . . . come up with public transportation," and the money accumulated in advance would help set up the system.

Andresen said citizens have sent him many complaints about dogs running loose, knocking down elderly persons and biting children. Andresen asked for a stronger leash law to prevent dogs running loose anywhere.

"It's not so much the law as the enforcement," Hauke said. Full-time patrol by a humane society truck and driver would cost approximately $11,000 a year, he said.

The council told City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer to consult with the Sausalito city manager about a joint dog law enforcement program. The two cities might hire a full-time patrol truck and driver together, Balmer suggested.

Balmer read a report by Police Chief Dan Terzich on the hippie situation in Mill Valley.

Terzich reported that panhandling and hitchhiking had been curbed by police action, and that groups hanging around the bus depot had become less troublesome after warnings about blocking the sidewalk.

Councilmen were pleased that the situation had improved, but Andresen had suggestions for more action. He said Terzich had not mentioned narcotics, the problems of camping or sleeping in public, fire hazards nor trespass.

The council later took a letter from Peter Borschberg of 1004 Lovell Avenue, complaining about hippies and others using Cascade Reservoir for nude swimming, sunbathing, marijuana smoking and overnight camping.

Meyer said the reservoir had been fenced off three years ago, but people kept cutting the fence to get in. The reservoir is now used as a "passive recreation" area and serves as a major source of fire-fighting water for the area, he said.

The council forwarded Borschberg's letter to the police and suggested more patrols and closer enforcement in the area.

Andresen pressed unsuccessfully for council action on a request from the Marin County Human Rights Commission for formation of a local "mini-board" to work in civil rights matters. Meyer ordered the matter held over to the next meeting.

"If the council plans to nominate people for the mini-board," Andresen said, "we should make it known . . . so interested persons can apply."

Oakland Airport Due Hilton Inn

OAKLAND (AP) — The entrance to Oakland International Airport will be the site of a 300-room Hilton Inn.

Final approval of the project was voted unanimously yesterday by the Oakland Port Commission.

Estimated cost of the project is $4 million. Construction is to begin late this year with completion scheduled for December 69.

Marin City Bus System Is Proposed

A subsidized shuttle bus system between downtown Mill Valley and Marin City was proposed to the Mill Valley City Council last night.

Chamber of commerce manager Granville L. Beedle said the chamber directors yesterday named a committee to investigate the proposal and report on it. Guido Todaro is chairman and other members are Leonard Peck and Louis Pizzio.

Mrs. Julin suggested that the bus be financed partly by the city or the chamber and partly by fares, with the city or chamber administering the service jointly with the Marin City Community Services District.

The proposal would meet needs of both communities, she said — increased sales volume for Mill Valley merchants, and increased convenience and availability of shopping for Marin City residents.

The system also would meet "a great human need," she suggested. "I find in both communities many individuals who are ignorant of their neighbors in spite of a desire and capacity to learn about, listen to, understand and relate with these neighbors."

Shopping can't in itself bring greater understanding, she said, but could create an atmosphere to inspire further exploration to resolve "the separateness and estrangement that is characteristic today."

$73,428 Sanitary Budget Is Studied

Tiburon Sanitary District directors last night reviewed the proposed budget of $73,428, up from last year's total of $70,094, and set July 1 for a final hearing and adoption of the budget.

Despite the $3,334 increase, the board will try to hold the tax rate at the present 52.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation, according to Francis J. Ryan, chairman.

The board also voted to spend not more than $100 for a study at Marin Municipal Water District on the type of sewer service fees used by Sausalito, Ryan said. The district is considering a change in its service charges, according to Ryan.

Burglars Hit Home

Burglars yesterday entered the residence of Mrs. Alice Steward, 1 Shelley Drive, and stole sheets, pillows, towels and kitchen silverware, Mill Valley police reported today.

Bennett Blames State Stamp Use On A Mistake

William M. Bennett of Kentfeld, hero of a $155 million natural gas refund to California consumers, conceded today that he had spent 24 cents of taxpayers' money to mail campaign literature.

Bennett, a member of the California Public Utilities Commission, is seeking the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate in today's primary election.

The I-J yesterday received campaign material from Bennett that had a 12-cent meter stamp by the PUC. His staff, asked about the stamp, assured the I-J that "it must have been the only one that slipped by."

A check of a few other North Bay newspapers, however, found another had gone to the Santa Rosa Press Democrat, also with a meter stamp by the PUC.

Bennett said today that the use of the PUC stamps "is wrong, and my responsibility." He also said he has been using his own stamps for campaign material, and that the slip-up was unintentional.

GI Is Wrestled Off Span Rail

An 18-year-old soldier from the Presidio of San Francisco had to be wrestled back to the railing yesterday by bridge officers after he climbed down to a steel girder.

According to the California Highway Patrol, a passerby reported to bridge Sgt. Louis C. Johnston at 6:35 p.m. that a man was sitting on the east railing.

As Johnston and two truck driver William Kiver drove up, Pvt. James L. Onderdonk stepped over the rail to the girder, officers said. "He put up a good fight," Johnston said after the two bridge workers succeeded in getting the soldier back to the rail.

Patrol officer David A. Pedersen said Onderdonk appeared depressed and said nothing. He was turned over to military police from the Presidio.

Reagan Signs Bill Fixing Camper Error

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill fixing a mistake in a law preventing owners from parking camper-type vehicles in their yards or at their places of business has been signed by Gov. Ronald Reagan.

It corrected a safety measure passed by the 1967 Legislature which prohibited overnight parking of vacation-type vehicles along highways. But the ban inadvertently prevented the parking of such vehicles in business and residential areas. Enforcement was delayed until the Legislature could fix the mistake.

The new law bans overnight parking along highways in unincorporated areas outside of business and residential areas. It would treat camper-type vehicles the same as cars and station wagons in regard to parking laws and ordinances.

Innocent Plea To Credit Card Forgery

Innocent plea to a charge of falsely signing a credit card slip was entered in Marin Municipal Court yesterday by Kenneth Lloyd Riggs, 18, San Rafael.

The youth is scheduled for preliminary hearing at 9:30 a.m. July 8. He is accused of forging the name of Arthur F. Gautier to a card to rent an automobile in San Rafael March 2.

Explosions Hit Utility Towers

OAKLAND (UPI)—Three high voltage electrical towers in the Oakland hills were knocked down early today be explosions, causing a 90-minute power outage affecting 30,000 customers.

A Pacfic Gas and Electric Co. spokesman said dynamite apparently was used. The explosions were reported by residents in the area to have been as loud as sonic booms.

It was the ninth attack since Feb. 1 in the Berkeley-Oakland hills on a facility of a public utility. In March, two other towers in the Berkeley hills were blown down.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Individualism Is Key To New Series

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"The Prisoner," CBS-TV's new one-hour weekend series, obviously means a great deal personally—besides money—to its star, Patrick McGoohan.

He created it, is executive producer and wrote and directed several of the episodes. Those who came to admire McGoohan in the "Secret Agent" series once again will note his individualism.

Technically, the story—a sort of futuristic horror-spy melodrama—concerns a man who has quit his highly confidential job and is kidnaped by unkown assailants who take him to a mysterious, self-containing, fairyland-like village from which no one escapes. For story purposes, the powers-that-be are after information he has. But actually the whole story is a parable.

The prisoner resists compromising his individuality in this outwardly pretty village. And suddenly we realize we are watching the closest thing a television series has come to creating the world of "1984." But at least in "1984" one know the enemy was really an enemy. In "The Prisoner," there is a terrifyingly technicolor, suburban-lawn type of atmosphere. What is Mr. McGoohan trying to tell us? We know, of course.

The village is a sort of ominous Disneyland, with piped-in soft music and public announcements over hidden loudspeakers. The community is planned down to the last horrible detail. Television entertainment has yet to make a more devastating comment against collectivism, insipid togetherness, statism and communal living. Ayn Rand may well love "The Prisoner," but so will a lot of other people, if the style continues.

Village officials have files on everybody. The prisoner resists going along with the game, despite the offer of a good job. He refuses to be filed, indexed, stamped, briefed, debriefed. He is disgusted at what many may recognize as the terrified bourgeois dream of absolute security and protection. He is not turned on by "senior citizens" playing games.

There is a sign that says, "A Still Tongue Makes a Happy Life." There are homes with all the suffocatingly cute, modern conformist devices—from furniture to memo pads. Suddenly the thought of freedom is like a tonic.

The sight of this permanent retirement village for human beings is positively nauseating, as intended. One gets the creeps looking at the stereotypes of scared conformists who aren't that far removed from today.

Farm Bureau Budget

The 1968-69 budget of the Marin County Farm Bureau will be presented at the board meeting Monday at the Point Reyes Creamery at 10 a.m.

County Education Board Votes To Seek Own Budgeting Powers

The Marin County Board of Education last night voted 6 to 1 to ask the county supervisors to relinquish their control of the board's budget and empower the board to do its own budgeting.

Budgeting for administering the county schools office, special education programs and transportation and travel costs — paid for from the county general fund and amounting to 10 cents in the county's tax rate — is at present the responsibility of the supervisors.

The recommendation will be presented at a budget workshop session with supervisors June 18, according to county schools Deputy Supt. Charles McCully, and for approval at the supervisor's regular budget session June 19.

Board member Arnold Dolcini Jr. voted to keep full fiscal responsibility with the supervisors. "This will take a lot more time and frankly I don't have it. The supervisors are getting paid for their work."

Other members agreed it would involve more work but Board vice-president Allen E. Robinson said, "I don't think the board of supervisors is any more capable of making our decisions than we are. If we attain fiscal responsibility we'll just have to devote more time to the board."

Dolcini disagreed. "I think it's a good idea to have someone over us to tell us how much to spend."

Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, told the board that supervisors would still have the final say on overall planning. "But," Hollis said, "I think this board should say whether our money is to be used by us or not." He added that "some of our funds to run the county schools office had been diverted to the second phase of the Civic Center."

McCully said the supervisors will continue to set the tax rate to be collected for the education budget. "Even if we ask for a tax of 20 cents, the supervisors can decide it will only be 12 cents."

Marin County Board Of Education Also:

CLASSROOM — Approved establishment of a relocatable classroom to open in the fall at West Marin School. Eleven children are already set for the class which will serve West Marin, Bolinas-Stinson and Tomales School districts.

DEAF CHILDREN — Approved a contract with state Department of Finance providing for $4,000 of state funds which will enable the county schools program to continue through the end of August.

DATA PROCESSING CLASSES — Approved a summer program for 30 Tamalpais High School District junior and senior students to study data processing at the Terra Linda Data Processing Center. A fall session at the district's high schools is also planned. Total cost of summer school will be $4,260, with approximately $3,000 coming from the state. Fall session is estimated at $3,900. Both are to be supplementally financed by a half-cent tax rate.

CONTRACT — Awarded contract for construction and paving at Marindale School to James T. Thornton in amount of $3,376.

LOMA ALTA GRADUATION — Approved graduation for special education candidates at Loma Alta School.

COUNTY STAFF CONTRACTS — Approved Hollis' recommendation that contracts be limited to one year on initial hiring; following the year's service, contract length can be determined by superintendent.

SPECIAL EDUCATION CLASSROOMS — Heard report from board member Allen E. Richardson that need is pressing. He will recommend provisions for new classrooms at the board's next meeting July 1 at 8 p.m. at the county school's office in Corte Madera.

CLAIMS — Approved payment of $707.76 to cover board members' meeting attendance and mileage costs.

Fire Volunteers Rewrite Bylaws

A new set of bylaws was adopted last night by the Bolinas Volunteer Fire Department, replacing bylaws dating from 1946.

Under the new laws, the chief will be nominated by members each January and then will appoint two assistant chiefs, a captain, a lieutenant and a first and second engineer. The chief and his appointees must be approved by the Bolinas Fire Protection District commission.

Under old bylaws, the only officers were the chief and two assistant chiefs, all nominated in July by the members, subject to confirmation by the commission.

To start the new system, Fire Chief Jose A. Silva will name the additional officers for consideration by the fire district board when it meets at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the fire station.

Diploma Rites Slated Friday

Rev. Thomas Kennedy, pastor of St. Raphael's Catholic Church, will speak at the graduation Friday of 79 students from St. Raphael's School.

The graduation mass and ceremonies are scheduled for 7 p.m. in St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael.

Three Novato Annex Plans Before LAFC

Three requests for annexations to the City of Novato will come before the Local Agency Formation Commission Thursday at Civic Center. The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers.

The largest annexation proposed is the 68 acres of Marin Highlands Unit 3, where Sono-Marin Builders plans to put in between 60 ond 100 homes. It is located next to Marin Highlands Unit 2, along Vineyard Road.

Fernando Clementino, who owns 4.37 acres of land at 496 Olive Avenue, also seeks annexation to Novato. A part of the land, zoned industrial, is now used as a garage and for storage of heavy equipment. The rest is agricultural. Last year, Clementino tried unsuccessfully to have the whole parcel zoned industrial by the county.

Walter Kieckhefer, who owns a strip of land less than an acre in size near Alameda De La Loma in Loma Verde, seeks annexation to Novato. The land is used as an easement for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. power lines and towers.

Marin Municipal Water District will ask for annexation of about an acre and a half of land on Beacon Hill in Sausalito. The property, owned by Martha S. Avery of San Anselmo and Frank W. Warren of Newport Beach, is south of Wolfback Ridge near Cloudview Trail.

Executive officer John F. Barrows will report on a request by Novato that developers who want to build on unincorporated land contiguous to the Novato city limits be required to annex to Novato before the county processes development plans.

Bolinas Community Public Utilities District and the Bolinas Fire District will ask that their merger plans be held up for further study.

Edgington Will Assume Top Job

H. Joe Edgington, superintendent of the Reed Union School District, will be installed as president of the Marin Association of School Administrators at noon tomorrow at the Novato Lodge.

Other officers to be installed are San Rafael City Schools Supt. John F. Plank, vice president, and West Marin School Dist. Supt. Howard F. Brose, secretary-treasurer.

The school administrators will tour the San Ramon School in Novato after the luncheon.

Corte Madera Again Backs Proposed Regional Library

The Corte Madera Town Council last night reaffirmed its support of a proposed regional library, financed under a joint powers agreement between the town and the county and located within the town limits.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher said the library costs would increase the library tax for Corte Madera residents by one or two cents and quoted a report from County Administrator Alan Bruce, who said the larger library could be occupied by late 1970.

Usher and Councilman Byron D. White said they will attend tomorrow's hearing on the matter before the board of supervisors.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

SWINGS — Accepted the gift of a swing set from the Marin Estates Homeowners Association for the Marin Estates playground on El Camino Drive.

GAS TAX — Endorsed a resolution by the Fresno City Council, opposing a move to give Southern California 60 instead of 55 per cent of gas tax freeway funds.

Sanitary Merger Discussion Due

The boards of the Corte Madera and Ross Valley sanitary districts will meet together at 7 p.m. Thursday at the office of the Ross Valley district, 11 Library Place, San Anselmo, to discuss a proposed merger of the districts.

The Town of Corte Madera has asked for a merger with the Corte Madera Sanitary District, but the local agency formation commission ordered the possible merger of the two sanitary districts explored first.

Officials Consider Ban On Turbines

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The U.S. Auto Club board of directors is expected to meet about July 1 to act on its rules committee's recommendation that turbine engines be banned from USAC racing events.

The rules committee made a similar recommendation two years ago, but directors refused to ratify it.

Andy Granatelli, owner of the STP turbine cars, asked earlier that any action to ban the turbines be taken quickly so car owners can start construction plans for the 1969 Indianapolis 500-mile race.

But after the rules committee's action yesterday Granatelli said:

"I can't believe directors will take such unwarranted action. They have said repeatedly the 15-inch annulus air intake formula would stand if proven competitive or (would be) changed in either direction if it was not competitive.

"We are confident board members will see through the shallow thinking of some members of the rules committee and at the next USAC board meeting, the 15-inch air intake rule will be established for a three-year period so proper development of turbine power in racing can proceed hand in hand with development of piston engines."

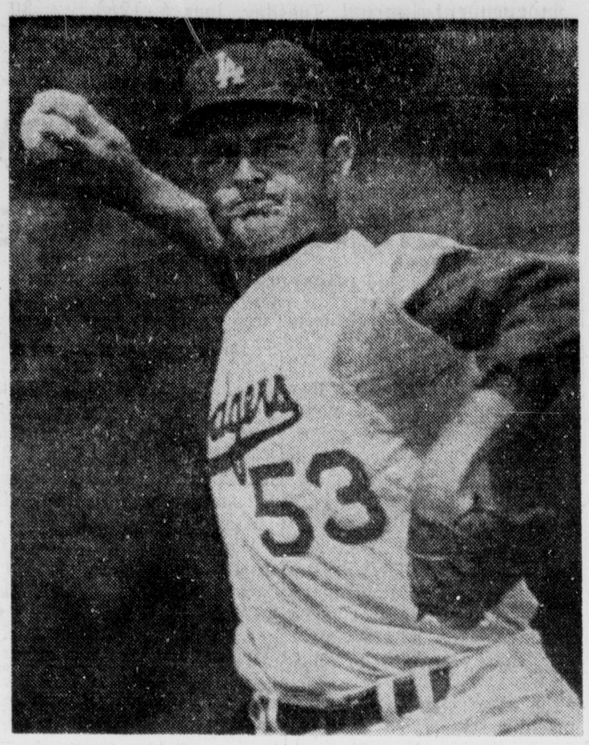
When the rules committee tried to ban turbines two years ago, USAC directors countered with a proposal for a formula to equalize turbine and piston engines.

In 1967, Parnelli Jones' STP turbine car ran away from the 500 field before a bearing failure stopped it with 7½ miles from victory. USAC then reduced the air intake area to cut down on the turbines' maximum power.

This year, two STP turbines held the first two starting positions in the 500, and driver Joe Leonard's turbine was leading when his engine stopped with 20 miles to go.

Granatelli's brother, Vince, chief mechanic for the STP turbines, said banning the turbines wouldn't keep the STP team away from the track.

"Regardless of the decision," he said, "we'll be back at Indianapolis next year. And it won't be with a conventional race car, either. We'll be different no matter what kind of power we have to use."



RECORD AIM — Los Angeles veteran Don Drysdale will be shooting for two major league shutout pitching records tonight when the Dodgers host the Pittsburgh Pirates. (AP Wirephoto)

No Asterisk For Drysdale

NEW YORK (UPI) — Don Drysdale has a shot at two records tonight.

He'd settle for one and be delighted with both but the one thing he won't settle for is an asterisk alongside either.

The 31-year-old Dodger right-hander can break Carl Hubbell's record string of 46 1-3 consecutive scoreless innings when he goes against the Pirates in Los Angeles tonight. Drysdale already has 45 straight zips to his credit and if he blanks Pittsburgh he'll also set a major league high with six shutouts in a row.

Where some people, like the Giants, for example, think that asterisk might come in was in the last game Drysdale pitched Friday night. The game was with the Giants and although big Don shut them out there was what quite safely might be called some disagreement during the ninth inning.

But the plate umpire, Harry Wendelstedt, said otherwise. He ruled Dietz had made no attempt to get out of the way of the pitch, therefor was not entitled to take first base and would have to keep batting.

You never heard so much raving and screaming in your life. Dick Dietz hollered his

Swim Club Searching For New Head Coach

JIM SHORTS:

San Rafael Swim Club is like a ship without a rudder these days following Head Coach Bill Kirchoff's sudden resignation June 1, leaving the kids high and dry. As Kirchoff gave only 10 days' notice at a busy part of the year, club officials are rather frantic in their search for an adequate replacement.

Bill Pandiani of San Rafael is living proof that little men loom big in sprots popularity polls. The former College of Marin all-star basketballer, who stands only 5 feet, 8 inches, was voted the Cal Poly "Hero Award" as the student body's favorite athlete. Little Bill played a lot of guard for the Cal Poly varsity team last season.

Mike Suyderhoud, the Drake High senior who has seen a lot of the globe in becoming the world's champion water skier, will take off for Paris June 20 to compete for the Americas against Europe in special water ski competition June 22-23.

Right Answer Is 800

A bunch of the boys were sitting around arguing about the seating capacity of the grandstand at Albert Field in San Rafael so Recreation Director Andy Snyder came up with the official figure: 800.

Congratulations to Tom Nelson of 21 Cortes Court, San Rafael. A Terra Linda High graduate, where he played football and baseball, Tom recently received an award as the "most cooperative player" on the St. Mary's College varsity baseball team this season.. A sophomore left fielder, Tom played under the Gaels' most valuable player, Larry Steele, and will step into the starting lineup next season, according to Coach Eddie Lake. Tom batted .413 in Western Conference and .500 in pinch-hitting roles.

Eight Marinites In Tourney

Eight Marin golfers will compete in the Northern California Golf Association's Seniors Tournament at Spyglass Hill, Pebble Beach, tomorrow and Thursday. They and their handicaps are George Kerrigan (5), Albert Hahn (15) and Vic Regalia (18) of the Meadow Club; Herbert Prodger (11), George Connolly (10) and Charles Sargent (11) of Marin Country Club; Keeler Nash (18) of Mill Valley and Clayton Huey (19) of Indian Valley.

Third annual San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tournament is scheduled June 16 at San Geronimo National course. Entry fee is $10 and first prize is a three-day vacation in Las Vegas.

Ex-Champ Advances In Golf

Both veterans are from Palm Beach, Fla.

Givens, 23, drew a first round bye and then was eliminated by Ian Ritchie of Scotland 6 and 5.

Sweeney, 56, who won this championship 31 years ago, beat Robert Fulker of Scotland on the 215-yard 23rd hole by puting his tee shot 4½ feet from the pin.

Twenty-seven Americans were in contention when the second day's play started over Troon's windswept 7,130-yard course. Par is 36-37—73. Twelve Americans won and 11 lost first round matches yesterday.

NOW A PRO

Michael Bonallack, the British Walker Cup star who won in 1961 and 1965 and is favored to take the crown this year, went out in a 3-under-par 33 en route to a 5 and 4 victory over countryman J.L. McClue.

Woodward Millen of New York moved up on a 2 and 1 triumph over Bill Bryce of England.

Several more Yankees, however, were knocked out in the early morning play.

I.L. Rae of Scotland ousted William Castleman of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., 5 and 4; Jim Frame of Scotland downed Pete Zaccagnino of Hartford, Conn., 2 and 1, and Scotland's George Rutherford beat Denis Iden of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., on the 20th hole.

Randle Signs Two-Year Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Veteran pass receiver Sonny Randle signed a 2-year contract yesterday with the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League.

Randle, 32, came to the 49ers last season in a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals and wound up as the club's second leading receiver with 33 catches for 502 yards and four touchdowns.

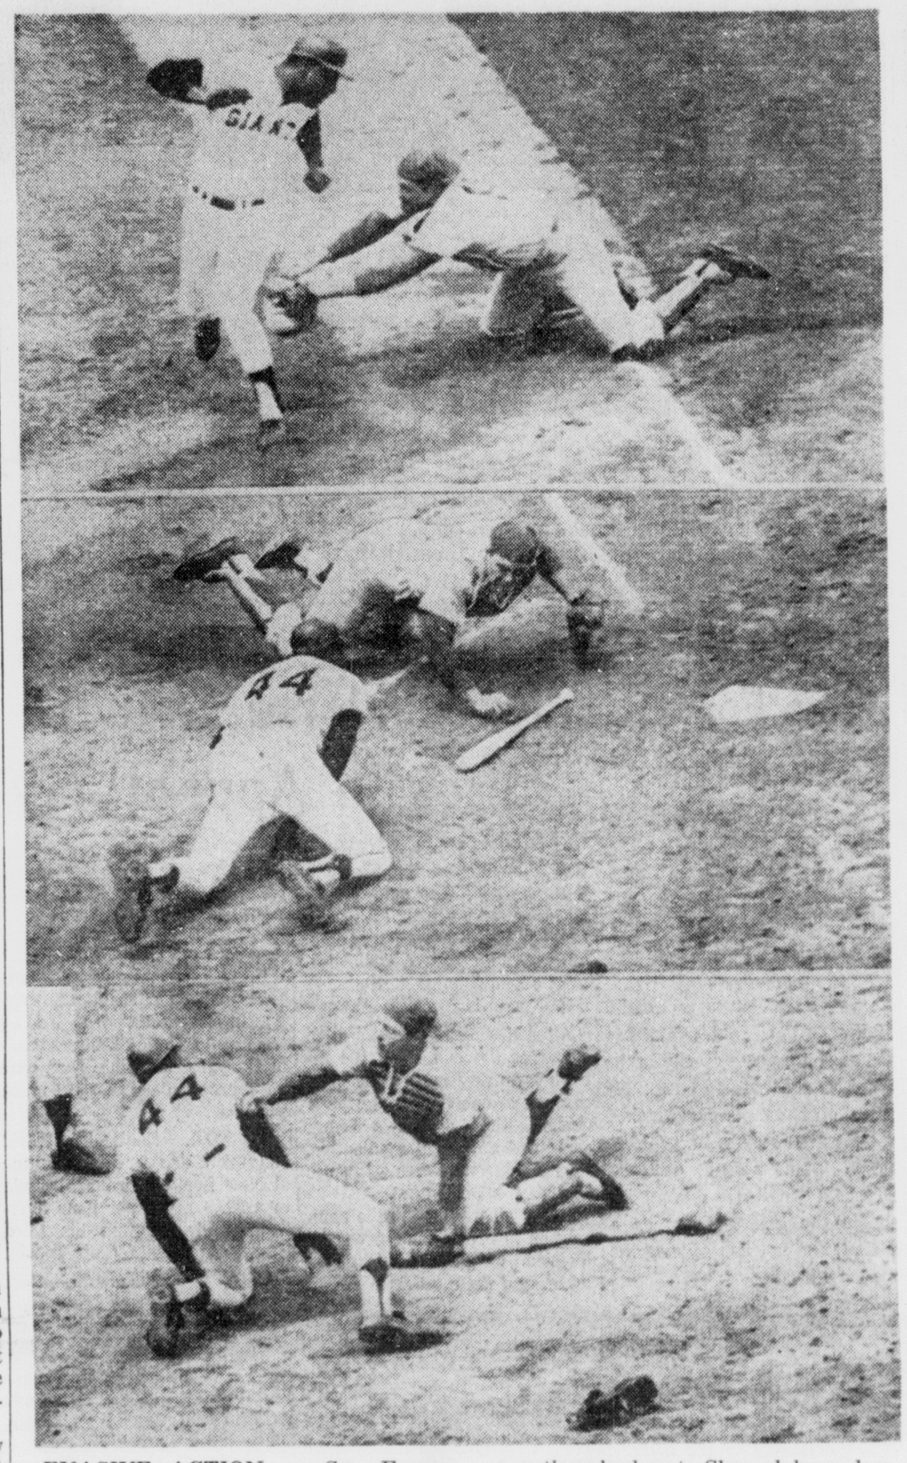
Ready to start his 10th season as a pro, Randle said, "The way I feel now I probably can play three or four more seasons, but I know I can play at least two."

The 49ers also announced signing of their fourth round draft choice, Johnny Fuller of Lamar Tech, scheduled for tryout as a receiver but also a possibility as a defensive back.

GEOFFRION NAMED COACH OF RANGERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion, one of the National Hockey League's all-time great players, was named coach of the New York Rangers in a surprise development today.

Geoffrion replaces Emile Francis, who piloted the Rangers to second place in the circuit's East Division last season, their highest standing in 10 years. Francis will remain as general manager.



EVASIVE ACTION — San Francisco's Willie McCovey tried to dodge around Philadelphia catcher Mike Ryan on this first inning play at Candlestick Park yesterday but was thumbed out. Slowed by a leg injury, McCovey was attempting to score from second base on a single by Jim Hart. Phils preserved the shutout to win 1-0. (AP Wirephoto)

U.S. Davis Cup Team Ready For Revenge

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The U.S. Davis Cup tennis team began practice today for Friday night's American Zone finals against Ecuador, determined to correct any impression that U.S. tennis is dead.

"I'm hungry. I want to win this match by 5-0," U.S. Captain Donald Dell said yesterday when he and his six-man team arrived from California.

"These players have had 12 months to think about losing to Ecuador last time," he said. "I don't think I'll have to get them up for this match.

Fresh from 5-0 victories over the British Caribbean and Mexico teams, the six-man team will play Ecuador in the American Zone finals on a carpet court in the Charlotte Coliseum.

Dell, his first year as nonplaying captain, has several reasons he'd like his team to shut out Ecuador.

"Some people have the impression that U.S. tennis is dead, and I think a show of strength would change their minds," he explained. "We aren't an invincible team, but we are certainly improving."

The U.S. team plans to use Stan Smith, 21-year-old University of Southern California ace, and Bob Lutz, also of Southern California, in Saturday night's doubles.

Dell said Arthur Ashe, Clark Graebner, Charles Pasarell and Jim Osborne are available for Friday and Sunday singles play.

Members of Ecuador's team are Francisco "Pancho" Guzman, Miguel Olvera and Eduardo Zuleta.

A's To Open Road Trip Against Nats

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jim "Catfish" Hunter, with a perfect game to his credit, meets Frank Howard, with 20 home runs to his, as the Oakland Athletics open a 10-day, 11-game road trip tonight against the Washington Senators.

Hunter, 5-3, has won two games and lost one since his no-hit, no-run, no-baserunner effort against Minnesota May 8.

Howard, Washington's towering slugger, has calmed down a bit from the time a while back when he was good for one or two homers every day but his 20 blasts are by far the best in either league.

The Athletics will be trying to capitalize on a successful home stand that saw them win six of 10 games and move up to sixth place within half a game of last year's league champions, the Boston Red Sox.

The Senators will go with Camilo Pascual, 4-3, against Oakland. Washington is currently mired in the American League cellar, 11 games behind the front-running Detroit Tigers.

Giants Blow Another One For Sadecki

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Opposing teams don't have to worry about their pitchers containing the Giants. Ray Sadecki achieves the same results by merely stepping on the mound.

The Giants' hard-luck southpaw pitched well yesterday but was touched for an unearned run as the Philadelphia Phillies registered a 1-0 victory. The loss knocked San Francisco into third place behind Atlanta in the National League race.

Sadecki, 6-6, has been on the losing end of shutout in his last three starts. Mike McCormick, 4-6, has an opportunity to square the series tonight against veteran right-hander Larry Jackson, 5-5.

Another tough-luck hurler, the Phillies' Chris Short, utilized the San Francisco power shortage to stop the Giants on five hits. Short struck out nine and picked up his first win since April 19.

"I've lost enough tough ones, so I guess it was my turn to win one of these," understated Short, 3-6.

Short survived trouble in the first and sixth innings and on three other occasions was saved by inning-ending double plays. He snapped a five-game losing streak.

PASSED BALL

The Phillies scored the winning run in the seventh inning after Bill White led off with a single and was forced at second on Tony Taylor's grounder.

Sadecki deserved a better fate. Two Giants were thrown out at the plate in the third inning and the club couldn't push across a run with the bases loaded and one out in the sixth.

What? Ump Admits He's Wrong

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Umpire Tom Gorman did an unusual thing yesterday. He admitted he was wrong.

In the last of the ninth inning of Philadelphia's 1-0 victory over San Francisco, Gorman, the plate umpire, halted proceedings to visit Phillies' pitcher Chris Short, who was finishing up a five-hitter.

"Gorman told me both feet had to be touching the rubber when you're taking the sign from the catcher," Short related afterwards.

Their collective wisdom was that only one foot had to be on the rubber. Gorman concurred and Short dispatched the Giants without further incident.

New Entry Paying Off For Dodgers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Ken Boyer-Rocky Colavito entry, out of the money a year ago in Chicago, is beginning to pay its way for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Boyer and Colavito, the aging sluggers obtained by the Dodgers this spring in separate deals with the Chicago White Sox, delivered successive run-scoring singles in the first inning last night, triggering Los Angeles to a 2-0 victory over Pittsburgh.

The National League leading St. Louis Cardinals drubbed Houston 7-2 for their sixth consecutive victory; Atlanta grabbed second place by edging Cincinnati 3-2 and Philadelphia nipped San Francisco 1-0 in other games. The Chicago Cubs and New York Mets were idle.

The Dodgers purchased Colavito, 34, shortly before the start of the season and signed Boyer, 37, as a free agent last month in an effort to beef up their attack. The White Sox picked up both veterans last season for the same reason, but could finish no better than fourth—although the pair combined to drive in 50 runs.

Last night, Boyer hiked his batting average 25 points to .304 with a double and the RBI single in three trips to the plate. Colavito, 1-for-3 against the Pirates, moved up four points to an even .200. The Dodgers, meanwhile, returned to the .500 level and remained only 3½ games off the lead.

Osteen, who struck out six, brought his record to 4-7 at the expense of Pirate southpaw Bob Veale, 2-6, who has been given a total of eight runs to work with in his six setbacks.

Mike Shannon drove in three runs with two doubles and a sacrifice fly and Orlando Cepeda delivered two more with a single and his sixth homer as the Cardinals held first place by one game over Atlanta.

Hank Aaron bounced into a force play in the sixth inning, stole second and scored on Tito Francona's two-out single, breaking a 2-2 tie at Cincinnati.

The Reds grabbed a 2-0 first inning lead against winner Ken Johnson, 3-3, but Joe Torre's two-run homer pulled the Braves even in the fourth. After Francona's single broke the deadlock, Claude Raymond pitched three scoreless innings of relief, protecting the one-run edge.

Sam Snead Still Eying That 'Open'

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sam Snead, now 56 but jaunty as ever, set out once again today in his lifelong quest for the big one that got away—the U. S. Open Golf Championship.

Old Sam, winner of more than 100 major tournaments but a lifelong also-ran in the Open, was among a group of 57 pros and amateurs seeking 14 berths in a sectional qualification at Indianapolis.

Other 36-hole qualifying rounds today also were scheduled at Bakersfield, Calif., San Francisco, Washington, Detroit, St. Louis, Montclair, N.J., and Pittsburgh.

At stake are 71 spots in the 150 man field that will play for the Open title on the Oak Hill Country Club course at Rochester, N.Y., June 13-16. Sectional qualifying in five locations filled 45 berths yesterday.

Also exempt are the Open and PGA champions of the last five years, last year's 15 leading money winners, the top 15 finishers in the 1967 Open, and British Open champion Robert De Vicenzo.

Most of the regular tourists not exempt fired their qualifying round yesterday at the par 72 Atlanta Country Club course, where they completed the Atlanta Classic last weekend.

There were some notable casualties, including four former Open champions—Jack Fleck, Dick Mayer, Tommy Bolt and Cary Middlecoff, who won in 1956, the last time the tournament was played at Oak Hill.

Former PGA champions Lionel and Jay Hebert and flashy Chi Chi Rodriguez also failed to make the 146 cut.

'YAZ' SETS SIGHTS ON BIG THINGS

Boston outfielder Carl Yastrzemski, winner of the triple crown and most valuable player award in 1967, seems to be aiming for those honors again as he looks down his bat prior to yesterday's game against the Detroit Tigers at Boston. The Red Sox ace leads the American League batting race with a .351 average. (UPI Telephoto)

Drysdale Tries For Records

head off and jumped up and down. Herman Franks bellied Dick Dietz out of the way and said, here, let a professional do it. He hollered his head off and jumped up and down.

Harry Wendelstedt, cool, calm and collected, simply did two things and not necessarily in the order of their importance. He wiped off home plate and kicked out Herman Franks.

The game went on and Drysdale nailed down his shutout by getting Dietz on a shallow fly ball and retiring the next two batters.

RULES

Now you know why the Giants are yelling asterisk. Drysdale suggests they get themselves a rule book and study it.

"It's definitely in the rules," he says. "If the Giants want to play the game by their own rules, that's fine. If they want to throw some of the other rules away, that's fine, too. But as long as they agree to play by these rules they can find this particular one in the book. It's rule 6.08. It says a hitter must get out of the way or attempt to get out of the way of a pitched ball. He (Dietz) definitely didn't make any attempt to get out of the way of the pitch. I've seen it rerun and rerun and rerun on television. I've seen it in slow motion. It's the same in every film. He didn't try to get out of the way. He just stood there. So I don't care what the Giants say."

Drysdale can't say enough for Wendelstedt. Not so much for his call but the way he made it.

DIDN'T HESITATE

"He called it right away," says Drysdale. "Regardless of whether he called it for me or against me, I give Harry Wendelstedt all the credit in the world. He showed me an awful lot of courage calling it the way he did. Everyone knows he's an umpire who goes by the book. The rule is in the book and he called it."

As for tonight's game with the Pirates, Drysdale says the first thing he's thinking about is winning. Then, since he's human, he'd like breaking Hubbell's record and the mark for shutouts also if he gets the chance.

Dark, Stanky Play Their Own Game

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Alvin Dark and Eddie Stanky were roommates with the old Boston Braves and New York Giants. Maybe that's when they dreamed up some of the moves they made last night as rival American League managers.

The long-time buddies matched wits and troops for 14 innings before Cleveland outfielder Jose Vidal bobbed up with a piece of unbeatable strategy—a home run that gave Dark's Indians a 3-2 victory over Stanky's Chicago White Sox.

The Dark-Stanky thinking match overshadowed a triple play by the New York Yankees that came too late to prevent a 4-3 loss to Minnesota. Elsewhere, Boston edged Detroit 4-3 and Baltimore downed California 2-0. Oakland and Washington were not scheduled.

Dark wasn't far behind. Chico Salmon, his left fielder, moved to second base in the eighth and played third, second and third again, all in the 14th. Ken Suarez, a catcher by trade, found himself at third base in the 13th and at second, third and second again in the 14th.

Things began smoothly enough. Larry Brown's homer gave Cleveland a 1-0 lead in the third inning but Chicago's Tom McCraw and Gerry McNertney homered in the fourth and fifth respectively and the White Sox led 2-1.

It stayed that way until the last of the ninth. With one out, Cleveland's Vic Davalillo singled and stole second. Bob Locker, a right-handed pitcher, retired Duke Sims, a left-handed hitter. But when Dark sent Willie Smith, another lefty, up as a pinch hitter Stanky countered with Hoyt Wilhelm, another righty. Smith singled Davalillo home with the tying run.

Vidal went in to run for Smith and stayed in the game to become the hero along with Hal Kurtz, a rookie pitcher, who hurled five innings of one-hit relief and picked up his first major league victory.

Minnesota pushed across its winning run on two walks and a Yankee error in the eighth inning. The Twins threatened to get more.

With the bases loaded and none out, John Roseboro lined the ball back to pitcher Dooley Womack, who threw to third baseman Bobby Cox to double Tony Oliva. Cox' relay to Mickey Mantle nipped Bob Allison trying to scramble back to the bag.

The Twins had gone ahead 2-0 in the third on run-scoring singles by Roseboro and Cesar Tovar. The Yankees scored their three runs in the sixth on a two-run single by Andy Kosco and a hit by Joe Pepitone. Rich Rollins homered for the Twins' tying run in the seventh.

Shooting Down Some Old Sports Legends

Today we are going to play a little game of Shoot-the-Easter-Bunny. or Was-There-Really-a-Babe-Ruth, Daddy?

Have a few sports legends to devour:

LEGEND: "The Four Horsemen were the finest backfield ever assembled."

FACT: The Four Horsemen were the lightest backfield ever assembled — at least at Notre Dame. They wouldn't have made the line of scrimmage against Green Bay.

LEGEND: "Ty Cobb was the fiercest base-runner in the history of the game, he used to sharpen his spikes with a file before taking the field."

FACT: Ty Cobb was a successful baserunner because he perfected the "toe" tag. This technique which he mastered provided for him to come into a bag like a guy testing the temperature of pool water. "It only gave them the toe as a target for the tag," Ty explained. "My slide was geared around avoiding the tagger, not crashing into him. If I touched anything but the bag with my toe, I was out."

FACT: Films of the fight, newly discovered in Australia, prove that Johnson was an over-age, overweight, exhausted challenger who took a considerable pummelling from the bigger, younger Willard before sinking, spent and dizzy, to the floor in the 26th round.

FACT: The 1927 Yankees had Ruth and Gehrig. But it did not have sliders, night baseball, distant fences, the enlarged strike zone and the elaborate scouting system even the lowliest teams have today. But, most importantly, the 1927 Yankees did not have the great Negro players testing their skills or even their positions as teams do today.

FACT: Only in the sense that they "threw" the first game and were too demoralized to scramble back even after that. They made far more errors in their dealings with the gamblers than they did in their dealings with the Cincinnati Reds. In fact, the Reds made as many errors in that Series (12) as the Sox did. The evidence is, the Sox tried to regroup when it became evident that they had been doublecrossed by the gamblers or their agents, their teammates, and they set an all-time record for assists in a Series (115) which stands to this day. Eddie Cicotte actually won what could have been the pivotal seventh game and "Shoeless Joe" Jackson set an all-time record for hits (12) in a Series.

LEGEND: "The Black Sox 'threw' the Series because owner Charles Comiskey was niggardly with his money and they made a financial 'killing' on the Series."

FACT: Charles A. Comiskey, the stingiest Roman of them all, was niggardly, all right, but the White Sox could have made $5,207.01 apiece for winning the Series, an all-time winners' share. This was $207.01 more than most of them got for throwing, or agreeing to throw, the Series, and $5,207.01 more than a few of them got. Additionally, they cost themselves $2,000 a man by losing instead of winning and the scandal was too hot for any of them to get a bet down without risking padlocking the Series by the cops.

YOU ALSO can make book that Ben Hogan was a great putter. Take the price that Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance was a mediocre double-play combination. Earl Sande was a run-of-the-mill jockey and if you hear someone in your chimney Christmas Eve, call the cops. It's 40 to 1 it ain't Santa Claus.

Stocks Gain Generally In Heavy Trading Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with a substantial gain today. Trading was heavy.

A wide range of stocks, blue chips and secondary issues, advanced throughout the list. Sporadic profit taking clipped some issues in final dealings, but the list as a whole remained near its peak for the day.

Glen Alden, up ½ at 18; AMK Corp., up 4½ at 98½; Certain-Teed, up 1½ at 30¼; Chrysler, up 1½ at 67½; United Air Lines, up ¾ at 40⅝ ; Indland Steel, off 1¾ at 37⅝; Pacific Petroleums, up 1¼ at 19⅜; and Commonwealth Oil, up ½ at 27⅞.

Volume for the first four hours was 13.33 million shares, compared with 10.93 million for the like period yesterday.

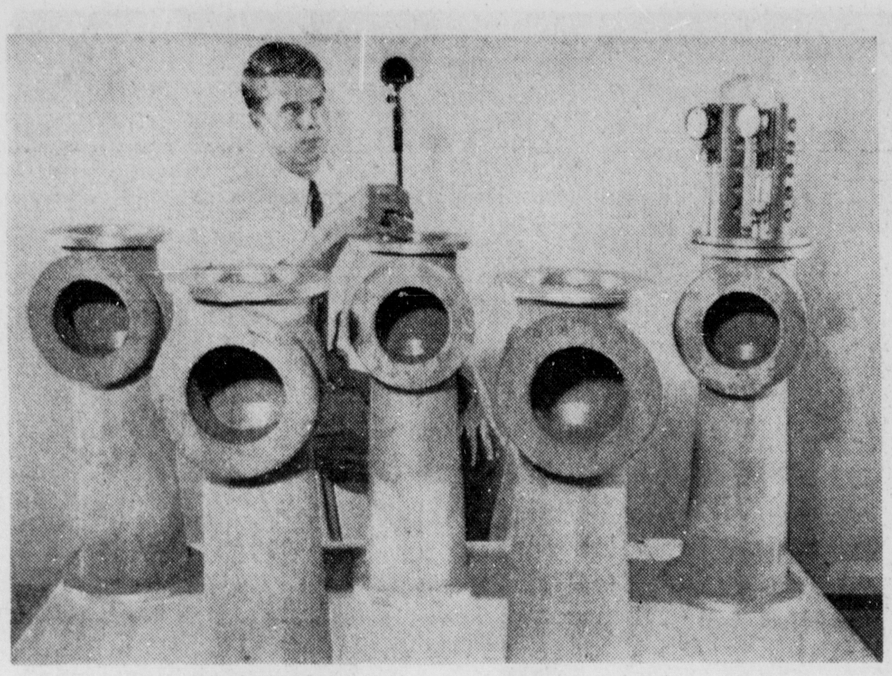
Gains outnumbered losses by well over 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange. The advances proceeded on a broad front, taking in blue chips as well as speculative issues.

The "flight from the dollar" and into stocks as a hedge against inflation was mentioned as one cause. Also a bandwagon mood among individual investors as well as institutions to climb aboard a rallying market.

Glen Alden, up a fraction, continued as most-active stock on anticipation of its planned merger with Schenley. Active gainers of a point or better included Pacific Petroleums, Pan American World Airways, Commercial Credit, Associate Investments, Chrysler and Certain-Teed.

Polaroid gained 3 while IBM dropped 3 in profit taking on recent big gains. Anaconda also gained 3, American Smelting and Westinghouse Electric about 2 each.



NOT FIRE HYDRANTS

These "hydrants" being inspected at Sales Corp. of America plant in Dresher, Pa., have nothing to do with putting out fires. Actually each will be built into a giant metering instrument that measures the flow of natural gas and air in industrial combustion systems.
